

Fabric glue

F

Fabric glue is a liquid adhesive specially designed for fixing fabrics - think clothes, cushions, upholstery, umbrellas, curtains, and much more. It is now also used to close some seams such as bag linings which will not be seen.

Glue is more susceptible to being damaged by washing. It's usually a little stiff. It will not hold as well as sewing and the fabric will not drape or move as well as it would if it had been sewn.

© Nigel Trout

www.sheillasewingschool.com