

Fusible Thread

F

The fibers in fusible thread are activated by the heat of the iron, as they have a low melting point. Fusible thread enables placement of a very thin line of adhesive exactly where you need to, without the mess of glue or trying to trim web narrowly.

Fusible thread is best placed in the bobbin and a longer stitch length selected.

www.sheillasewingschool.com