

Fusible

F

A fusible is basically a fabric with adhesive on it. It is used as a backing for the purpose of stability, or for adding body to the fabric. There are several different types of fusible fabrics and they each have a different purpose. Lighter weight fabrics generally require lighter weight fusibles.

