

Heat Away Stabiliser

H

Heat-away stabilisers dissolve with heat, allowing for easy removal without the need for washing. Stabilisers are primarily used in embroidery work.

A distinction is made between the following three basic types of stabiliser: cut-away, tear-away, and wash-away. In addition, there are special embroidery stabilizers that support the embroidery process.

www.sheillasewingschool.com