

Serger Stitch

A serger stitch or overlock stitch is produced by a serger/overlocker machine. The machine cuts the seam straight while neatening the edge and sewing the seam together. Overlocking is commonly used in mass produced garments.

www.sheilasewingschool.com