

Stitch width

The stitch width is the size of the stitch from side to side and is pre-set by the machine.

Narrow stitches have different uses to wider stitches. For example a narrow zigzag could be used for buttonholes or applique while a large width zigzag is good for joining two pieces of fabric.

