About Me...

I'm Mahlon Raines, country music singer/songwriter. Music has been my lifelong passion, a journey that started when I was just 15. Life took me on a different path for a while, but now, I'm back, pouring my heart and soul into creating the kind of music that speaks to life's adventures and emotions.

Drawing inspiration from legends like George Strait, James Taylor, Luke Combs, and Cody Johnson, I aim to bring the essence of Texas country to every note I play. Being a part of the Texas Country Music Association and the American Country Music Association has been an honor, and it's my joy to share my music with all of you.

So, take a seat, grab a cup of your favorite brew, and let's embark on this musical journey together. I hope my songs resonate with you and bring a little bit of joy to your day.

Thanks for stopping by and remember to always...

Keep it Country!
