

Hello, friends!

Fall is here! Throughout September, we hosted many successful events, such as the annual Dizang blessing ceremony with Master JiRu giving a talk before the ceremony concluded, and our DBS Students and Teachers Meet Retreat.

October will also feature a few events, including the Bodhisattva retreat on November 1st and 2nd, and the Guanyin blessing ceremony scheduled for October 19th. Learn more about these events below or visit our website for additional information!

Last month, we welcomed a group of around 10-12 members from a small club called Diverse Perspectives Liberate Me, who visited and participated on Sunday morning, the 21st. About 20 youth from the Center for Indian Cultural Education - Bal Vihar of St. Louis visited on the 28th.

We would like to remind you that enrollment is now open for the Master's in Buddhist Studies (MABS) program. Please see the flyer below for more details, and visit the Right Mindfulness Training Academy \(RMTA\) website to learn how to apply and participate.

We send our blessings to all who lost their lives in the disaster and those who suffered due to the cyclone.

May you find peace and happiness!
May you all have a safe and peaceful Halloween!

Master Jiru's Reflections on the Launch of the MABS Program

If the Buddha's teachings are properly and effectively propagated, the Buddhist community will be inspired to explore the Dhamma more deeply and cultivate righteous conduct through proper practice. To realize this core objective, education must be firmly established. The transmission of Buddhism requires capable people; education must remain a priority for its continuation and development.

About seven years ago, with funding from the Youth Buddhist Education Foundation (YBEF), we began offering a two-year part-time Diploma in Buddhist Studies (DBS) in collaboration with the University of Kelaniya, Sri Lanka, under the name Right Mindfulness Training Academy (RMTA).

Three cohorts have already completed the program, and the fourth is currently in progress. More recently, we have taken a step further by initiating a Master's program. Although student recruitment is indeed challenging, I would like to take this opportunity to share some reflections from my years of involvement in this project. As a transnational Buddhist worker residing in the United States, I broadly categorize Dharma education and educational work into three levels:

1. Outreach education through regular temple activities.
2. In-depth education for intellectuals who love learning.
3. Specialized education for training future successors.

The first two are often more casual in nature, sometimes limited to faith-based learning. It is only upon advancing to the third category that education becomes the foundation for preserving the quality and roots of Buddhism over centuries, forming the grand plan for cultivating highly skilled professionals. RMTA has chosen this path. We aspire to introduce the complete tradition of Asian Buddhism into the English-speaking world. We are determined to strive forward relentlessly, aiming to serve as a solid stepping stone.

The DBS program was initially held at the facilities of MABA before moving online in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic in the US. On March 29, 2023, our team traveled to Sri Lanka and signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Postgraduate Institute of Buddhist and Pali Studies (PGIPBS) to jointly establish a two-year, part-time Master's in Buddhist Studies (MABS) program. This year, our long-held wish has finally been realized: the program is set to launch in March 2026, and recruitment is now underway.

Several notable features of the program deserve mention:

1. Strong faculty – The MABS program has a robust and highly qualified team of instructors. I am grateful to the RMTA working group for their dedication in bringing together such esteemed mentors.
2. Practical focus – The curriculum remains rooted in tradition while addressing contemporary realities, striving to stay relevant to the present age.
3. Commitment to quality – With the Sangha's oversight, we aim to ensure that the quality takes precedence over quantity, both for teachers and students. The ultimate goal of Buddhist education is to fulfill the wholeness and noble sanctity of Dhamma learning. Teacher-student friendships, grounded in moral cultivation and wisdom, should reflect the exemplary model of the Buddhist Sangha's educational spirit. Only heartfelt sincerity can inspire deeper and broader awakening; only a lofty vision can shoulder great responsibilities. Outstanding teachers and students together embody the most profound dimensions of Buddhist education. I sincerely welcome friends with an interest in, ideals of, and self-discipline to join us on this path of bringing the Dharma to the world in English.

Dizang Blessing Ceremony on September 14th.
Master Jì Rú led the Sunday Morning group to the Dizang Hall to participate in the memorial service that day, and gave a short talk to all before the ceremony ended.

Landscape Work by the Lotus Pond

Over the years, the small pond that usually caught water running down from the hillside before it flowed to the big pond on the other side of the bridge was filled with mud and sand washed down from the hillside in the woods, causing water to flood over the walking path. An excavator company came to do the work, now the path will be nice and dry to walk around the Lotus Pond.

Buddha's Teaching of the Month

The Buddha addressed the community thus: “It is through not fully understanding and penetrating the Four Noble Truths that I, as well as you, have experienced the cycle of rebirth-and-death for a very long time. Because of not fully understanding the Noble Truth of Suffering we have experienced the cycle of rebirth-and-death; by not fully understanding the Noble Truth of the Origin of Suffering; the Noble Truth of the Cessation of Suffering; and the Noble Truth of the Path Leading to the Cessation of Suffering; that we have for a long time experienced the cycle of rebirth-and-death. --- DN 16

The Ten Stages of Trust

Volume 1 The Fifty-two Stages of the Bodhisattva

XIANKUAN

The Ten Stages of Trust has just been published! This is Xiankuan Don's third book on Buddhism. The Ten Stages of Trust is for Bodhisattvas and those interested in the Bodhisattva Path. This is the first commentary in English on the beginning of the Bodhisattva's 52 Stages.

To acquire books:

All proceeds go to MABA. If you are local to St. Louis, you can arrange to stop by Xiankuan Don's office on a Friday or Saturday afternoon and get a copy. Please contact Don's office to reserve a time. If you are not local to St. Louis, you can acquire this book through our website: (<https://maba-usa.org/dharma-books>) or through the author. All $40 goes to MABA ($34 for book, $6 for shipping). Amazon has the book also, but MABA only gets 10%.

Further Description:

The Ten Stages of Trust should interest Chan, Zen, Huayan, and Tibetan Buddhist practitioners. This text can be especially useful for those who have taken the Bodhisattva Vows or are considering this step. The 350 pages include translations of selected passages from the original sutras, commentaries on the essential meanings, as well as commentaries on verses from the Map of the Ten Buffalo (Zen Ox Pictures), Sengcan's Trust in Mind Inscription, and Farong's Mind Inscription. At the end of each chapter, there is a suggested meditation for each stage.

Dana

Dana signifies the virtue of giving. The monastic community relies heavily on the support of the lay community. Currently, MABA depends almost entirely on the support of the traditional Asian community. It is very important for us to assist the Western community in developing the six paramitas (perfections), the first of which is the virtue of giving. The significance of practicing Dana lies in its ability to help overcome lower fetters, such as greed and ignorance, as well as in its role in accumulating merits that support meditation practice. Without making preliminary efforts to establish virtuous actions, meditation can often become fruitless. We encourage everyone to seize any opportunity to develop this virtue.

Internet Upgrade Expenses Donation Link

At MABA, we have greatly integrated the use of the internet into our routines. This technology allows us to host online teachings and create presentations for our Sunday services. However, our internet provider is discontinuing their unlimited business plans, and transitioning to a usage-based plan will increase our rate from $599.95 per month to $799.95 per month.

We are reaching out to our community for help in bridging this gap! If you can, please support our cause. Every contribution counts! To donate, click the button to the left. Under "General Donation," select "Donate." This will redirect you to the donation page; once there, use the dropdown menu to select "Internet Upgrade Expenses."

Thank you for your ongoing support!

Interfaith

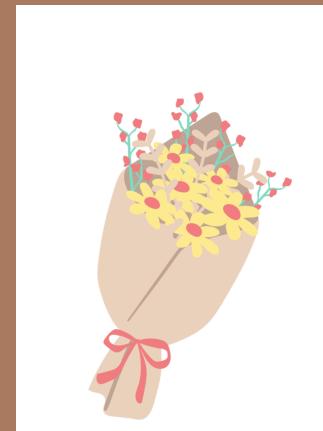

MABA accepts invitations from schools, educational institutes and other religious organizations to introduce Buddhism and mindfulness practice, as well as to join interfaith dialogues that promote mutual understanding between practices.

Lanterns

For our Dharma friends and supporters who wish to make a dedicated lantern offering. We will engrave a tablet in your name (or any name you wish) and place it at the Guanyin Pavilion.

Lantern offerings

Funeral Services

Reservation of the niches, ordering the urns, placing the urns, relocating the urns, chanting services, placement of name tablet of ancestors, and visiting dying patients.
