A HELOC, or a Home Equity Line of Credit, is a type of revolving credit that allows you to borrow money against the equity you have built up in your home. HELOCs work similar to a credit card, where you have a credit limit, and you can borrow as much or as little as you need up to that limit. You only pay interest on the amount you borrow, and you can borrow and repay funds as many times as you want during the draw period, which is typically 10 years.
