

FROZEN FAITH

(Based on a shock response to state/trait threat to life or safety of self or others or self & others.—fight, flight, freeze)

Fear taking root through the freeze response within crisis and becoming a state of fear.

Fear that has bound a persons ability to see the first step out and beyond the first step.

Fear that has bound the receiving of empowerment from God's Spirit.

Faith that is frozen to this moment and all that it feels as reality.

Pride, ego, expectations of failure, and doubt are wrapped around the feared person, place, or thing.

A devouring spirit/parasitic spirit may have been in each developmental task and phase having consumed the life from my spirit but also the strength coming into me from God's gifts already in me and being given to me currently in the new developmental task (based on Malachi 3:11, NKJV).

- Effects: cynicism, doubt, inability to believe in God's love, inability to receive God's comfort, inability to make decisions or find direction, inability to trust, inability to receive/perceive meaning.
