To Whom It May Concern:

Onye Onyemaechi is an extraordinary individual and contributor to the Bay Area arts and cultural scene. He brings many years of experience to his craft of music making, educating, and community building. He's clearly an expert leader, with a big heart, a strategy for putting students and audiences at ease, and a passion for creating arts experiences that are fun and transformational. I love how group drumming and rhythm can coalesce a group of strangers into a collaborative process and feeling of community! In April, Onye led a group of young people and parents at an Earth Day celebration at the Children's Museum of Sonoma County. Everybody loved it!

I highly recommend bringing Onye to your organization!

Sincerely,
