

For Immediate Release
November 18, 2013

ScrapSource Named #48 on the Dallas 100™ List of Fastest Growing Companies in North Texas

(Dallas, Texas) – SMU Cox School of Business, Caruth Institute for Entrepreneurship, announced ScrapSource is among the fastest growing, most dynamic privately held companies in the North Texas area. ScrapSource is a boutique scrap management and consulting firm that provides innovative, revenue-enhancing solutions for companies that generate scrap metal during their manufacturing processes.

Co-founded by the Caruth Institute for Entrepreneurship in 1990, the Dallas 100™ Awards is an annual event that identifies and honors the 100 fastest-growing privately held companies in the North Texas area. To qualify for the Dallas 100™, a company must meet various criteria including its three-year sales history which reflects growth during the three-year sales period, have credit and character satisfactory to the Dallas 100™.

“We are excited to be selected as a winner for such a prestigious award”, says Larry Olschwanger, President and Founder of ScrapSource. “We are fortunate to have assembled a team of professionals with such unique industry experience. Not only do we know the industry’s best practices, our people have been at the forefront of their development”.

About ScrapSource:

Founded in 2010 and headquartered in Dallas, Texas, ScrapSource is a boutique scrap management and consulting firm that provides innovative, revenue-enhancing solutions for companies that generate scrap metal during their manufacturing processes. ScrapSource helps companies make smarter scrap recycling decisions while improving revenue and implementing industry best practices. For more information on ScrapSource and the services provided, please visit our website at www.scrapsource.net or e-mail info@scrapsource.net.

Contact:

Amanda Miller or Larry Olschwanger at 214/239-4303
ScrapSource
amiller@scrapsource.net or larry@scrapsource.net