Autex Acoustics acoustic treatments are more than just a tool to reduce unnecessary noise in a space: they are a powerful platform to express artistic ideas. Through the use of colors, patterns, and textures you can make your project one to truly remember. Through industry-leading printing capabilities, your acoustic solutions can be the feature piece of your space. In addition to this, our panels have your well-being at their core. With low VOCs, we have ensured that our products won't bring harmful materials indoors. We have also been carbon neutral since 2021, leading sustainable innovation for acoustic solutions.
