

Boots on Ground Day

15 May 2024

Restoring healthy water flows

GWYMAC Landcare and Mulloon Institute invite you to get hands-on with a property-scale land restoration project. We'll hear from our host about how they designed their project to be achievable, economical and effective. We'll share a meal, take part in construction and enjoy ourselves while gaining practical skills.

This is stage 3 of the Communities of Practice Project, where landholders receive expert mentoring to implement a drought resilience project using natural infrastructure and farm system solutions.

Mulloon Institute is a leading research and education organisation helping to build resilient regional communities by supporting the long-term, sustainable growth of Australian agriculture.

Presenters:

Peter Hazell
Principal Landscape Planner

Erin Healy
Landscape Planner & Environmental Engineer

Time

8.30 am – 4.30 pm
includes catering

Venue

Address supplied upon registration.

Pricing (includes GST)

One-day: $30

<https://events.humanitix.com/boots-on-ground-day-nsw>

CLICK OR SCAN

Contact

Byron Norman (GWYMAC)
0431 510 014

Byron@gwymaclandcare.net.au

This project received funding from the Australian Government's Future Drought Fund.