You are aware of the famous ^{proven} January

"All WORK & NO PLAY makes JACK a DULL BOY
 Here play stands for rest & relaxation
 Thus a person becomes dull, dumb & dreary
 if he does not relax intermittently For the player of any game or activity without rest would render him ineffective sooner or later. Sometimes we see all the subtleties of work, only if come out of its domain Glancing at it from a non-working territory makes us aware of its subtleties & finer detail Vagaries & excitements. Instead some relaxation would help us in renewing our energy & enthusiasms and zeal to work. All work & no play without relaxation could lead to instability & insecurity

By not relaxing from the routine work or by doing something different, we lose strength and would not be able to withstand any further pressure.

There are many avenues for relaxation, including family outing, reading book, listening to music & meeting friends. In western countries like America, professional people work hard during the week days but forget about their work in the weekends by going out on some picnics with family & friends or playing golf or visiting a zoo etc. This makes them fresh for the next week.

Proper relaxation is good for improving creativity. Meditation & yoga can also make a person relaxed by taking care of the spiritual & physical aspects of the mind & body respectively. Continuous work without relaxation may also cause breakdown of health. Even round the clock sitting before the computer & browsing or respond to e-mails & receive e-mail results or browsing through internet messages or marriage-bureaus matching horoscope also can cause breakdown of nerves. In the process you may lose zest for life.

The Indian philosophic system classifies many things including work into three categories: 1) SATVIK
 2) RAJASIK &
 3) TAMASIK

Nishkama Karma comes under 1st category.
 While Sakama Karma & Akarma belong to second & third categories respectively.
 However, by self-control & modulation of desires, one can elevate oneself from an Akarma state to Nishkama state.
 Nishkama does not mean that one would not get ~~its~~ fruits. It only suggests that one should work for its own sake and the best of the results would follow automatically.

In a similar way, we can extend the classification to Relaxation Relaxations in which purity of thought-action is not affected and which is free from all desires is of the SATVIK type.

But in RAJASIK type of relaxation, a person is not free from desires, but his thoughts are normally free from negativity.

In the third category of TAMASIK relaxation a person always indulges in thinking against others. Thus doing harm to a person ultimately deprives him from necessary fitness to do fresh constructive work. Shutting & speaking

If I can put it in a different way

January

RELAXATION means spending of stored energy
 If it is spent in a noble way, it results in developing a SATVIK state of mind.

If it is spent for personal achievements it leads to ~~RASIK~~ state of mind.

If it is spent in the process of harming others it results in TAMASIK relaxation.

Further Relaxation plays an active role in material phenomena too. Without relaxation of an ~~electronic~~ ^{electric} system, we don't get current.

An applied electric voltage always takes the system to a nonequilibrium state by ^{imparting} additional energy.

The system takes some time to relax by interaction with its environment & brings itself back to equilibrium & thus gets back to stability.

No relaxation or ~~less~~ ^{infinite} relaxation plays its own role resulting in zero or no-conductivity. The emission of highly intensive coherent light, which is otherwise known as LASER, and the functioning of the modern magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) also involve, among others, relaxation.

On Short Relaxation is as equally important as effective action to produce long standing & more productive result. Tranquility of mind is a consequence of positive relaxation while Chaos is the result of negative relaxation.

The Relevance of Panchatantra

January

Most of us would definitely have read stories from Panchatantra in our childhood.

"Panchatantra" by Vishnu Sharma thousands of years ago has so much to offer to us by way of insight into human behavior though the characters are entirely from the animal kingdom. The running theme of Panchatantra is that "Knowledge is the TRUE ORGAN of sight, but not the EYES."

It is the practical guide to NEETHI or the Art of intelligent living. Through the wisdom of its fables, Panchatantra offers a vision of ourselves. In so doing it makes us aware of the fact that solutions lie within ourselves.

Human Desires (1st 2 parts)

January

Desire means a great longing to expand

The energy called "Desire" has been condemned for centuries by the so-called Saints & Philanthropists

Desire without any object, unmotivated desire or desire without being any goal-oriented or pure desire is GOODNESS. Saints say:

"Desire is not to be destroyed but should be purified"

"Desire need not be dropped but should be refined"

Your very existence is according to your desire
To be against it should be against Yourself

To be against it is all against entire Creation against the flowers, against the birds, sun & moon

To curb desire is to go against all creation

1st DESIRE is CREATIVITY

Our discipline are right January

When they say the God created the world because a great desire arose in Him:
a desire to create, to expand as huge as sky

The man who is after money may not know why he is after money. If he goes ^{deeper} into unconscious he will be surprised that his desire is ^{really} not for money but it is the desire to expand beyond his area

The same is the case with all his other desire like more power, more fame, longer life, widow, better health. If he watch carefully & go deeper money, power & prestige, make him more discontent.
Why? because the way (me) when I was poor

Now when I am rich & resourceful money because a satisfied want

Desire itself is not wrong January

But desire for money, power & prestige are wrong objects of desire. You can have a sword

It may be wrong to kill somebody with it, but that does not make the sword faulty

You can also save somebody with the sword

Thus desire has to be purified & transformed because it is your energy source, since you don't have any other energy. The medicine way to transform desire is to change the object-

so let us not go after money but start ^{group} towards it

There is no seed of desire, because desire is the seed of all resources & seed of all unhappiness

To transform all your energies, be creative & be

You can see transformation happening on its own

The story of Geese & Tortoise February

week 05

Once upon a time there lived ^{in a lake} a pair of geese and a tortoise, all three of whom were great friends. White geese decided to leave the lake in March. The lake began to dry up due to severe drought. As the tortoise could not fly, the geese thought of a plan, whereby the tortoise would have to hold on to a piece of stick, (through its mouth) which can be carried by the geese into their mouth on either side, while the tortoise can hang in mid-air. The only condition was the tortoise should not open its mouth to speak, lest it will fall to death. But on seeing this strange arrangement, people ^{in the area} were unable to know their trick started laughing loudly. Unable to control its anxiety, the tortoise ^{in its mouth} opened its mouth to its death.

In LIFE — Nothing Changes

The GITA adds ethereal dimensions while retaining the metaphysical probes in a systematic exposition; While the thoughts proceeding from the Vedas & Upanishads and reinforced by the ideas of Krishna, Buddha & Shankar have provided the basic inspiration to our cultural values.

The Gita does not advocate FEAR as an inducement for action but relies on the innate strength of the individual to spur him to action out of a sense of duty and a self-esteem with a mind steadied by a YOGIC DISCIPLINE, which is decided on the battle field of Bharat.

One has to identify & strip out only the goodness

When one dedicates his life to God, then only Godly qualities emerge. These qualities should exist in the Heart to be invoked and pulled out avoid self-interest & self aggrandisement

Goodness dedicated to God helps in seeking

(Speak No Evil words) February

"Speak no evil" is the dictum which is of eternal & universal importance. To speak ill of others is to suffer from an ego problem and want of proper understanding or sympathy towards other's point of view.

It is a basic social attitude. Yet one should cultivate acidiously. But be get read to criticize others with several intervals of tempo. There be exchange during our conversations.

Here is a warning "NA Asleelam Keerayeth"

We came across terms like February blasphemous words &

"LOUD MOUTHED" or "foul mouthed", "word bites"

"WAGGING TONGUE" from a radical or maverick

In support of this ancient adage, we have several quotes in "SATYAM BROOYAATH"

(speak truth)

"PRIYAM BROOYAATH"

(speak politely)

"NA BROOYAATH SATYAM APRIYAM"

(never say truth unpleasantly)

PRIYA

ANUDVEGA KARIM VAKYAM SATYAM HITACHAYE

(speak truth but speak politely)

Lord Krishna advises us in His "Geethopadesher"

that "let our words be free from ^(unadupekavaram) emotional laboursand truthful (satyam) & polite ^(prya hitachaye)It is my bitter experience that a single slip of tongue
a blurt or a prattle leads to social troubles

grandfather Ramula Anantnarayaniah

was blessed with a son (my own father)

early in 20th Century (around 1901 or so) in response to the prayers of my own grandparents, who were encouraged to build a family temple for our own family Trinity (Mahakali, Mahalakshmi & Saraswati)

in our native village (Ramulavaripalem) from our ^{joint} family funds @ P.P.

Our joint family then consisted of my Family history further tells me that my other grandfather Pannala Viswanada was blessed with only a daughter (Venkat Subbamma Till then our family was an undivided

 Hindu joint-family located at Pannalavipula Having come to know that my grandfather was fulfilling his vow to conduct a temple for the Trinity, when he was blessed with a son and that he was discharging his responsibility by spending from their joint family funds, late Mr Viswanadham (my other grandfather) wanted to put a stop to this expenditure from joint family funds & demanded family separations, which came existence in early 1920s.
