

The Best Promotional Tool
Is The Appaloosa Himself

Known for being a do-everything using horse, the blood-breed Appaloosa stands out amidst horses of other breeds. Not just for his eye-catching color, but for his versatility, ability, and his family-oriented disposition. He can go from taking a fierce competitor into a working cowhorse competition, gymkhana event, and over a hunter/jumper course, to steadfastly carrying the youngest child in lead-line, all in the same day.
