

Dear Naples Reserve Residents,

I am writing to you to address a concerning issue that has come to our attention regarding the bridge by Kids Cove.

It has been brought to our notice that some children have been observed rolling boulders into the water near the bridge. While this activity may seem harmless, it poses significant hazards for both the community and its infrastructure.

Firstly, the boulders landing in the channel present a safety risk for boats navigating through the area. Not only can this make boating more difficult, but it also increases the likelihood of damage to boats, potentially causing costly repairs or accidents.

Secondly, these boulders serve a crucial purpose in stabilizing the berm and banks of the bridge. Their presence is integral to maintaining the structural integrity of the bridge and preventing erosion. If a substantial amount of rock were to be displaced, it could lead to serious structural issues that may compromise the safety of the bridge and surrounding areas.

I kindly urge all residents, especially parents and grandparents, to speak with their children and grandchildren about the importance of refraining from engaging in activities that could endanger themselves or others.

Additionally, I encourage everyone to report any instances of such behavior to the management office or Board of Directors.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me directly.

Thank you.

Best regards,

Julie Concannon
