

False Idols

By: Lou Sones

Though I don't follow any organized religion, I often look to the Bible for some of its words of wisdom. The following passages are particularly relevant to the atrocious conduct of the Trump Presidency:

And the Lord said to Moses, "You shall not make gods of silver to be with me, nor shall you make for yourselves gods of gold.

I guess Trump missed that one. Easy to do when reading the Bible upside down. No wonder Trump is adorning the White House with tacky bling.

And Jesus said, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations'? But you have made it a den of robbers."

Similarly, Trump doesn't treat the White House as a house for the people. He treats it like his headquarters for liars and grifters.

Trump starts a war with Iran. Pete Hegseth asks for a bigger defense budget. Trump's sons invest in 10 defense companies. Trump sells pardons to hardcore criminals for millions of dollars. Companies bribe him with more millions so they can operate without the constraint of sensible regulations. He manipulates the markets with sweeping policy proclamations while trading stocks. He starts his Meme Coin Crypto company. He makes half a billion, while his investors lose their shirts. Let's not even go into his self-aggrandizing vanity projects, costing us taxpayers millions and millions of dollars.

But let's bring it all home. I mean, let's get local and talk about how our two Congressmen- Randy Fine and Cory Mills- not only stay silently complicit, but actually support Trump ripping their own constituents off.

First of all, Miller and Fine were big proponents of the so-called "Big Beautiful Bill" – the largest transfer of wealth from the working class to the super-rich. Both Mills and Fine are all in on Trump's ballroom. Fine introduced the "Build the Ballroom Act" to grant explicit statutory authority for the project and fast-track its construction. They don't care that the President lied about it not costing taxpayer money. Florida Representatives Randy Fine and Cory Mills have publicly defended the former president's $16.4 million renovation of the Lincoln Memorial Reflecting Pool. Another project paid for by their constituents. Fine and Mills strongly supported President Trump's military actions against Iran. Consequently, both Florida Republicans opposed legislative efforts that sought to invoke the War Powers Act to force the withdrawal of U.S. forces from the conflict. Even though Mills had some reservations, he went along to get along, costing the lives of 14 service members and injuring hundreds more. Not to mention the cost to their constituents and the inflation that we're all dealing with. And just today they voted for "The Save America Act", disenfranchising millions of voters. If you can't win it rig it.

I'm here in Florida, and our mission is clear: we have to vote Mills and Fine out. For those of you who live in other states, you have to vote Trump's supporters out. We need a Congress to rein in this immoral criminal. A man who wants to be a king. Some of his MAGA sycophants actually think of him as God. How far we've stooped! He's a revengeful, sinful man who bows down to false idols.
