

Next Level Business Strategist,

TRANSFORMATIONAL TEACHER, AND BREAKTHROUGH COACH NICOLE WILLIAMS PRESENTS:

SOUL-POWERED CEO

Free yourself from the shackles of the mundane mainstream, awaken your soul, and turn your passion into profits!

“There has GOT to be more to life than this!”

Sound familiar? Reach deep into your soul and break out that passion that’s been hibernating within you. RISE and SHINE with your talents, gifts, and greatness! Shake off the the “Ugggh!” and WAKE UP to your DREAMS every day!

During a typical day, do you:

- Have to coax yourself out of bed? Let me guess: You lay there, staring at the ceiling and try to talk yourself into getting up, but the reasons that motivate you are that other people need you.
- Talk yourself through getting dressed, constantly giving yourself motivational talks like “Only 2 more days of work this week. Just get moving and get it over with.”
- Stress all the way to work, and when you get there, have to talk yourself into getting out of the car? Or if you work at home... stress while setting up your workspace, and then have to talk yourself into turning on your computer?
- Feel your soul shrinking with every task you complete at work, knowing this is not what you are meant to do?
- If you're a stay-at-home parent, do you long for something to ignite your soul, other than keeping the house, spouse, and kids in order?
- Feel like you're wasting your time... and your life?
- Constantly think “This CAN'T be all there is!”

If this sounds familiar, I have AWESOME news. There IS more to life! It's time to start LIVING!

TRANSFORMATION

In this 90-day, one-on-one program, you will:

- Say farewell to feeling stuck in a soul-destroying job and free your soul and its powerful intuition to guide you into a deeply fulfilling purposeful path full of love that attracts love and support
- Shake off the burden of others' expectations of you, and shift into a confident person who clearly knows what your soul wants to do and you're not afraid to tell people so.
- No longer put others' wants and needs first at the expense of your wellbeing as you shift into feeling safe and confident to take up space and be heard.
- Release the toxic energy draining your life force, and awaken the limitless energy of your soul to feel vibrant, lit-up, and ready to be the creator of your own reality
- Clear the fear, pain, and drama around what the eff you're meant to be doing with your precious life and get a clear roadmap on who you are, why you're here, and what you're meant to be doing.
- Awaken your treasure trove of natural gifts, talents, and abilities and watch the abundance flow in as you share them with the world —guilt and shame free.
- Remove restrictive beliefs around your purpose, and shift into the realms of limitless potential where you'll be singing at the top of your lungs, "I'VE GOT THE POWER TO CREATE MY DREAMS!"

I help people who feel trapped or stuck in an unfulfilling lifestyle give themselves permission to be happy, and then find and cultivate their inner passion, and monetize it.

My Journey:

Over the past 25 years, I have travelled the world, taught kids in a variety of school subjects, and taught adults in language, business, and corporate training sessions. I directed a youth facility, and was later a manager in the corporate world, facilitating personal development in both. I also earned a Bachelor's and a Master's Degree. In the middle of all of that, I was married and had my daughter.

My marriage was doomed from the start. My husband had a wandering eye, and would project his guilt onto me with verbal abuse. A miserable existence for me—and my child. I thought that since I was legally bound, that was my final fate. However, I'll never forget one rainy night, five years into the marriage. I was sitting in my car in the parking lot after work, watching the rain hit the windshield, and dreading the drive home. I thought to myself, "This is my fate. I just have to live with it." At that moment, I heard God speak to me in a clear, deep voice, saying, "NO YOU DON'T!"

God's words were all I needed to start thinking outside of this miserable box I was in. I went back and forth in my mind and heart, and finally realized that I deserve better. I deserve love and happiness, and not all of this baseless guilt and shame this guy kept throwing at me because of his own guilt and insecurities. I decided to leave. I signed the house over to him, divorced him, moved out, and made a clean start in a nice 2-bedroom apartment with my child. I had lived on my own before, but this was a scary step to take with this little girl depending on me! But I knew God was on my side, so I kept my eyes on Him, and the amazing serenity and Eden-like bliss in our new life proved to be well worth it!

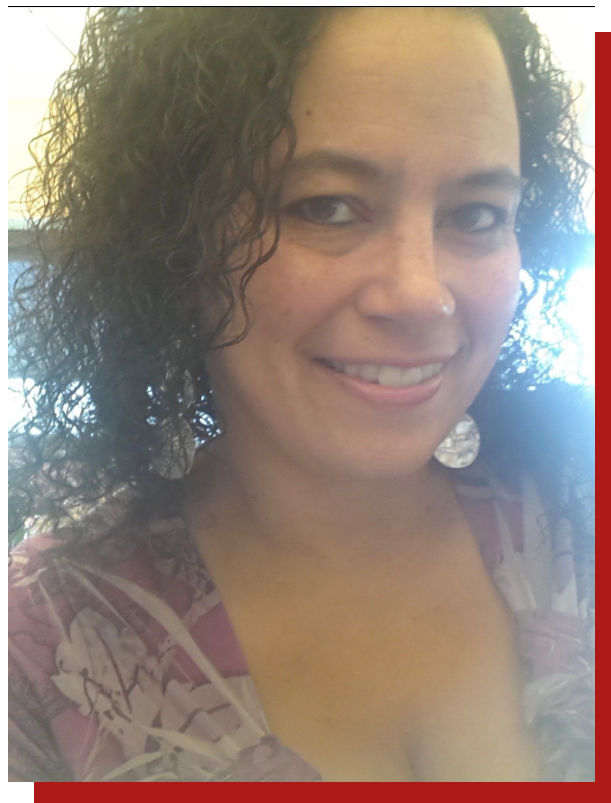

(Side note: My ex and I have a great co-parenting relationship and friendship now, as guilt and grudges are longer factors between us.)

I was financially able to make that move largely because I had a steady job with the phone company, and had been there for 8 years at the time. I am ever-grateful for that job, for all that it allowed my child and me to do. Fast forward 4 more years, I decided to take my corporate career a step further and get that Master's Degree in International Business. I earned the degree part-time over 4 years, but then faced a glass ceiling at my job that I was not aware existed before. Over the following 4 years, despite several "in-charge," "team support," and "special task force" assignments, no more advancing in title or pay would come for me, even with my shiny new degree, past experience in management, and (then) 20 years of service!

I became very disenchanted, and in the daily, task-oriented, “pump out numbers” environment where I was, I could feel all of my talents, education, and experience being buried. I was suffocating in this place that once provided so well for me. I realized I was now basically only as good as the numbers I produced.

I dug deep into my heart, prayed, listened, and again received God’s word. I heard Him say that He is my only judge and assessor, not that company or any other person. I can recall the afternoon when I was discussing it with my advisor. We went over retirement options and if it really was the thing to do. I decided that day to retire from my job, after 22 years of service. The moment I said “I’m doing it, and I’m doing it on this date,” I got chill bumps and physically felt as if angels were lifting me and I had no weight at all. I could swear I also heard the choir of angels strike a triumphant chord! I felt and heard their applause as I decided to speak my truth, let my inner light shine, and not allow any one or any job snuff it out anymore. I decided to let my voice be heard, and allow all of my knowledge, gifts, experience, and testimony be an impact on all others who can benefit from it, especially now in this time of uncertainty.

Can you feel something holding you down? If your inner voice is telling you that your soul is suffocating, it’s time for change! Life is short, and the time is now! It’s time to discover how to set your soul free, let your light shine, and let your passion bring you profits!
