“Turn your Garden into the Perfect B & B for Birds”

Supporting our local bird populations and promoting healthy living for them with food, water, shelter, and proper hygiene is so important. Alyse Burman will explain how to keep wild birds safe from the elements, and the proper birdscaping techniques to attract more birds just by following a few easy steps. Join us to learn how to transform a backyard into a “bed and breakfast” for birds while enhancing your outdoor surroundings.

The presentation will be followed by a Q & A Session.

Alyse Burman, Educator & Owner of The Wildbird Shack, built a successful career in corporate marketing, but in retirement she is pursuing her real passion: educating people about birds, conservation and nature — as well as the healing effects of birding.
