

NOONGAR TRAIL TOODYAY

The trail experience will take you to museums and on-country including old walk tracks

Oral history handed down from an Elder indicates a massacre taking place in the 1800's at a karlerl (family camp) near the junction of Avon River & Toodyay Brook

Oral history handed down from a senior Elder advised this Boyagerring area (camping & hunting), up through the rich fertile lands of Balgaling (Coondle), and on to Bejoording is part of an ancient walk track

Prior to colonisation this area was a karlerl - a Noongar family camp

Prior to colonisation this area was a karlerl - a Noongar family camp

Prior to colonisation this area was a karlerl - a Noongar family camp

The Noongar Trail project is managed by the Noongar Kaartdijin Aboriginal Corporation (NKAC) ensuring cultural integrity, and supported through the Shire of Toodyay reconciliation plan.

The overall walk distance is approximately 9 kms. This includes out and back along the river to Redbank Pool (#11). You can drive to or get close to most locations on the Noongar Trail. Follow the 'dark blue' pointers. Enjoy.

The Noongar trail is suitable for families with children. No bushwalking experience required. The trail has both soft sand and compacted surface, gentle hill sections and occasional steps. For your bushwalking safety stay on track and take water with you. In some sections the Noongar Trail follows both the Bilya and Pelham tracks. Noongar Trail brochures are available at the Toodyay Visitor Centre.

We acknowledge and respect the Noongar traditional owners of their ancestral lands and waters of the Toodyay area