ALKALINITY

NEUTRAL

ACIDITY

Alkaline Ionized Water

Water containing a lot of hydroxide ions (OH-) and hydrogen (H<sub>2</sub>) generated at the negative electrode during electrolysis.

Purified Water

Acidic Water

Water containing a lot of hydrogen ions (H+) and oxygen (O<sub>2</sub>) generated at the positive electrode during electrolysis

Be Healthier Inside and Out

Removes astringent taste

When you soak vegetables such as spinach using alkaline ionized water, the astringent component oxalic acid is leached out so there's less of a harsh taste.

Alkaline Ionized Water

Promotes digestive comfort and supports smooth gastrointestinal movement for healthy bowel function

Alkaline ionized water is approved under Japan's PMD Act for improving gastrointestinal symptoms. Drinking 1.0L to 1.5L daily may ease discomfort. Start with pH 8.5 water and gradually adjust as your body becomes accustomed to its benefits.

Supports Daily

Cooking Effectively

Alkaline ionized water permeates food more than other water, and has special effects such as extracting flavor and making food tender.

Brings out the flavor of food and softens

Alkaline ionized water, with its strong extracting power, enhances the savory umami taste by drawing out flavors from food. It also softens fibers in items like meat and rice, making them more tender. This water not only tenderizes meat but also helps dissolve and release its rich umami flavor.

Comparison of extracted amount from green tea

The same amount of green tea was put into alkaline ionized water and tap water. More components were extracted from tea leaves in alkaline ionized water, resulting in different colored tea from the same amount of leaves. Even with a small amount of tea leaves, you can enjoy a delicious cup of tea.

Purified Water

A worry-free life starts with safe, clean water. For baby milk, taking medicine, washing food, etc., safe, clean water is needed by everyone every day. Thorough water purification lets you enjoy a worry-free life.

For washing your face

Weakly acidic water has nearly the same pH as skin, so it's gentle to skin. You are recommended to wash your face with it every day.

Mechanism of OSG Alkaline Ionizer

An Alkaline Ionizer can generate alkaline ionized water and acidic ionized water. First, in the same way as with a regular water purifier, residual chlorine and impurities are removed to create purified water. Then, the purified water is electrolyzed by positive and negative electrodes to create alkaline ionized water and acidic ionized water.
