Edit Education is an alternative provision for students across all key stages, apart from KS5 who have been excluded, are on the cusp of exclusion or need extra support. This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about our students. We, Edit Education, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and as such we are obliged to inform you of the information we hold on you and your child(ren), what we use it for, who we share it with, and for how long we keep it.

Jamie Bentley is Edit Education's Data Protection Officer (DPO). The role of the DPO is to ensure that Edit Education is compliant with GDPR and to oversee data protection procedures. The contact details are:

- to comply with the law regarding data sharing
- to ensure correct support is offered during Covid-19

3. The lawful basis on which we use this information

Our lawful basis for collecting and processing student information is defined in GDPR under Article 6. The following elements of the article apply:

- a. Data subject gives consent for one or more specific purposes.
- b. Processing is necessary to comply with the legal obligations of the controller.
- c. Processing is necessary to protect the vital interests of the data subject (Student, parent/carers)
- d. Processing is necessary for tasks in the public interest or exercise of authority vested in the controller (the provision of education).

Our lawful basis for collecting and processing student information is further defined under Article 9, in that some of the information we process is deemed to be sensitive, or special category data. The following elements of the article apply:

- a. The data subject (Student, parent or carer) has given explicit consent.
- b. It is necessary to fulfil the obligations of controller (provision) or of data
- c. Subject. (student, parent/carers)
- d. It is necessary to protect the vital interests of the data subject. (student, parent/carers)
- e. Processing is carried out by a foundation or not-for-profit organisation (includes religious, political, or philosophical organisations and trade unions)
- f. Reasons of public interest in public health
- g. It is in the public interest

Collecting Student Information

A full breakdown of the information we collect on students can be found in the provision's data mapping document.

On some occasions, we process personal information on the basis of consent, for example, when we wish to take and use student images. Consent can be withdrawn at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for consent and explain how consent can be withdrawn.

How We Use the Information You Provide To Us

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using students' personal data overlap, and there may be several grounds, which justify our use of this data. Such reasons include:

The submission of the provision census returns, including a set of named student records, is a statutory requirement on provisions under Section 537A of the Education Act 1996. Putting the provision census on a statutory basis means that provisions do not need to obtain parental or student consent to the provision of information ensures provisions are protected from any legal challenge that they are breaching a duty of confidence to students helps to ensure that returns are completed by provisions.

Storing student data

We hold student data whilst students attend our provision. The file will follow the student when they leave the provision. However, we have a legal obligation to keep information beyond their attendance at the provision, which will be destroyed in line with our data retention schedule as outlined within our data mapping document. Please contact us if you would like further clarification on our retention timescales.

We have data protection policies and procedures in place, including strong organisational and technical measures, which are regularly reviewed. Further information can be found on our website.

Who We Share Student Information With

We routinely share student information with appropriate external agencies to meet our legal obligation or where we have sought your permission. The agencies who we routinely share student information with include:

- Our local authority – to meet our legal obligations to share certain information with it, such as safeguarding concerns and exclusions
- The Department for Education (for further information relating to Covid-19 Testing, please refer to the Privacy Notice for Covid-19 Testing and the DfE Privacy Notice)
- Educators and examining bodies
- Ofsted
- Suppliers and service providers – to enable them to provide a service as part of a contract.
- Financial organisations
- Central and local government
- Our auditors
- Survey and research organisations
- Health authorities
- Security organisations
- Health and social welfare organisations
- Professional advisers and consultants
- Charities and voluntary organisations
- Police forces, courts, tribunals
- Professional bodies
- Provisions that the student's attend after leaving us

If we transfer personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will do so in accordance with data protection law.

Please contact our Data Protection Lead (see contact details at the end of this privacy notice) who can provide you with further details of who we share student information with as recorded in our data mapping document.

Why We Share Student Information

We do not share information about our students with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

We share students' data with the Department for Education (DfE) on a statutory basis. This data sharing underpins provision funding and educational attainment policy and monitoring. We are required to share information about our students with our local authority (LA) and the Department for Education (DfE) under section 3 of The Education (Information about Individual Students) (England) Regulations 2013.

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about students in provisions in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including provisions, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our students to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the provision census and early years' census. Some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information about Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

For more information on information sharing with the DfE (including the National Pupil Database and Census) please go to: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>. We will not share any information about you outside the provision without your consent unless we have a lawful basis for doing so.

The department may share information about our students from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in England by:

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The Department has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- who is requesting the data
- the purpose for which it is required
- the level and sensitivity of data requested: and
- the arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to student information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.

For more information about the department's data sharing process, please visit:

Requesting Access to your Personal Data and your Data Protection Rights

Under data protection legislation, parents and students have the right to request access to information about them that we hold, through a Subject Access Request. Parents/carers can make a request with respect to their child's data where the child is not considered mature enough to understand their rights over their own data (usually under the age of 12), or where the child has provided consent. Parents also have the right to make a subject access request with respect to any personal data the provision holds about them.

We will provide information in a way that is:

- Concise
- Transparent
- Intelligible
- Easily accessible
- Uses clear and plain language

If you would like to make a subject access request, please contact our Data Protection Officer.

Data subjects have the following rights with regards to their personal information, as follows:

- Confirmation that their personal data is being processed
- Access to a copy of the data
- The purpose of the data processing
- The categories of personal data concerned
- Who the data has been, or will be, shared with
- How long the data will be stored for, or if this isn't possible, the criteria used to determine this period
- Where relevant, the existence of the right to request rectification, erasure or restrictions, or to object to such processing
- The right to lodge a complaint with the ICO or another supervisory authority
- The source of the data, if not the individual
- The safeguards provided if the data is being transferred internationally

You also have the right to:

- object to processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- prevent processing for the purpose of direct marketing
- object to decisions being taken by automated means
- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed.
- claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the Data Protection regulations 11.

Complaints.

We take any complaints about our collection and use of personal information very seriously. If you think that our collection or use of personal information is unfair, misleading or inappropriate, or have any other concern about our data processing, please raise this with us in the first instance. To make a complaint, please contact our Data Protection Lead within provision, Alex Nangreave at Edit Education, Unit 2, BizSpace, Planetary Road, Willenhall, WV13 3SW.

Changes to this privacy notice

On occasions this privacy notice may be updated. We encourage you to check this privacy notice from time to time to ensure you understand how your data will be used and to see any minor updates. If material changes are made to the privacy notice, for example, how we would like to use your personal data, we will provide a more prominent notice (for example, email notification or correspondence of privacy notice changes).

For more information on information sharing with the DfE (including the National Pupil Database and Census) please go to: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>. We will not share any information about you outside the provision without your consent unless we have a lawful basis for doing so.
