

Walter Plush has been a Director for Total Sunshine, Inc. for 11 years. He is a native Washingtonian who attended DC Public Schools, and graduated from Randall Aerospace and Marine Science High School in 1980. He then attended Tuskegee Institute (now University) from 1980-83, and transferred to the University of the District of Columbia (UDC) in the fall semester of 1983. Mr. Plush enrolled in the US Air Force ROTC Program in 1986, and graduated in the spring of 1990 with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. He also was commissioned in the United States Air Force as a Second Lieutenant, and served there from 1991-2006 as a Computer Communications Officer.

In 2001, Mr. Plush received his Master of Science in Business Administration from Central Michigan University; also a Master of Professional Studies in Emergency and Disaster Management from Georgetown University in 2020. In 2007, he obtained a position with the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of the American Indian as an Information Technology Specialist. He recently accepted a position as an Information Technology Specialist with the US National Weather Service.

Additionally, Mr. Plush is a long-standing member of DCTV (local public access television station in Washington, DC), a multiple award-winning television producer who currently produces an array of video projects, also volunteers at DCTV. He has been a primary editor and producer for the multiple award-winning television show "Total Sunshine!" for 13 years, and has supported the MLK Holiday DC Committee (annual MLK PeaceWalk/Parade) with film and related coverage/support.

Walter Plush has an impressive background in varied disciplines, and continues to contribute valuable insight to assist students and community as an active member on the Board of Directors of Total Sunshine Incorporated.