Single-Heartedness

The background is a complex, layered image. In the upper left, a semi-transparent globe shows the continents. The central and right portions are dominated by a vibrant, multi-colored crowd of people with their hands raised in the air, suggesting a religious or celebratory gathering. The colors range from deep blues and purples to bright oranges and reds. In the lower foreground, a large, detailed fish, possibly a salmon, is visible, its head and scales clearly defined. The overall atmosphere is one of intense energy and global unity.

Ministry is never really a thing of convenience it requires an act of compassion that is dressed in urgency. Because the one seeking help is in an emergency situation. Applying a bandaid when surgery is needed to stop the bleeding at the root cause. Can we afford to make a mistake in our assessment of their true condition or should we make the sacrifices as Jesus did to meet the needs of those who sought Him out?

Many are called upon but few are chosen. Which are you? Actions speak louder than words.

Entitlement vs Fairness (Can you recognize the real outcome)

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

To many distractions creates a lack of hope. Pay close attention to cause and effect because being self-absorbed and short sighted creates an unsteady atmosphere and overall environment. We are moving closer and closer to other events that have been described within the scriptures. Based on decisions made by those who are in position to make decisions, but neglected to see the bigger impact from them, therefore create greater devastating outcomes. Obedience delays and offsets devastation. Be very conscious of who you place within the driver's seat, understand the depths of their nature and not just the surface of what they allow you to see. Roots usually are deeper than that which is exposed to the surface allowing them to withstand and have future growth. Eventually motive will be exposed but will destruction already had it's sting and can you recover. Weigh out the hard decisions and don't be nonchalant. Keep in mind history try's to repeat itself but progress puts the negative history to rest for the greater good. Stay in alignment with the principles of God, for they prove that His Word not ours will not return to Him void.

Enter to Exit Better Than Before

Evang. Stacie Daniels

Upon entering a New Year, often we hear of New Year resolutions and new goals individuals hope to achieve. In addition, there are those who create new or revised vision boards for where they would like to be at a certain time. If you are in this category, let me take this time to encourage you not to give up on your pursuit to better. Please let this statement be your truth: I will enter the New Year to exit better than before.

At the close of the year, take time to analyze those things you wanted to accomplish during the year but fail short and what you would have liked to see different as you exit. Then, be prayerful over those things and seek God for clear direction going into the New Year. Leave no stone unturned in your prayer closet concerning the will of the Lord for your life at this pivotal moment in time. Note precisely the state in which you enter into the new year and make a conscious effort with the strength of God to exit in a better position (spiritually, emotionally, physically, financially, etc.). Take the necessary steps, do not give up, and know that slow and steady will still get you to the other side of where you hope to be as you exit into the new.

Forgiveness is Essential

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

When you truly think about it Forgiveness is essential to eliminating regret. Because we are human, we are prone to mistakes and misunderstandings. It is our interpretation of events that measure what we consider as violations towards us. But it is our responsibility to really evaluate our reactions and responds in lieu of that particular event. Do we come off entitled because we hold a certain position or stature? Or are we quick to demonstrate compassion even in a difficult situation providing a different outcome?

Do we base our judgements and relationships based of first-hand knowledge or second-hand opinions? Failing to understand that the power of building a relationship lives in each one of us and we control the impacts that we ourselves create. It has nothing to do with another persons opinion. It has to do with facts that we individually experience. So don't let another rob you of your many opportunities. Realize God as creator knows all and trust Him. When we can apply the compassion of Christ, we are able to reap the greater benefits. Have we truly studied the attributes of Christ and if so, do we mirror His character? If not, we have work to do with urgency because the clock for each of us is ticking. So, don't procrastinate or hold onto grudges, because in Unity there is strength. This is not meant to be a lengthy conversation that will usher in more reasons not to reconcile. Therefore, making things more difficult to gaining an intended solution where we learn and grow from it. Therefore, Forgiveness is Essential this is a notable and impactful prescription.

When you feel you can't keep going. When you feel no one cares. When you feel no one believes in you. When you feel you've nothing left. When you feel the odds are totally stacked against you. When doubt enters your head and tells you, "It's not worth it". Find a way to take the NEXT step. Keep going my friend, keep going!

KEEP GOING: Sgt. Nate Griffin

This time of the year has been labeled the most difficult for many. Some will find themselves alone. And many will find themselves lonely. Many will attempt to hide behind smiling faces, in hopes no one notices their inner sorrow. And many will find themselves at the end of their rope. But, in all of this, we can still find hope. We can still find joy.

Although Jesus came to earth to bring salvation. He also brings hope. Not just in the life that is to come. But, in the here and now. It can be difficult to realize that, or even see it when we find ourselves comparing our lives with the lives of others we feel are far better. Do know this. Everyone is struggling. Yes, even the well-to-do. The famous and infamous, all face the challenges of life. We've seen this recently among celebrities. Those we feel have so much going for themselves, also find an emptiness or inner pain they can't handle any more.

Being a believer in Christ is by no means a pass to never experiencing these horrors of life. For the scriptures say, "For he makes his sun rise on the good and the evil. And sends rain on the just and the unjust"- Matthew 5:45

You may need to reach out to someone for assistance, for help, for intervention, or for support. Find the strength to ask for help, seek help, and receive help. What you're feeling, is true, real, and very much painful. Yes, it is unbearable and seems it will never end. It will! All storms end. Just as all sunshine gives way to the night. Seasons change, times change, people change. And in time, that which you are experiencing and going through will change.

You will be stronger as a result. You'll be wiser from the experience. You will have grown and developed into the person you were destined to be. Stand firm! Focus on the positive outcome. If you must cry, cry. If you must scream, scream. If you must take some time away from the crowd, do so. Take back the control of your life. Don't give it away to circumstances and situations. Remember, you can do all things through Christ which strengthens you. You have the grace, you have the power, you have the authority.

We cannot escape the miseries of life, just as on some days, it seems things are going so well, that nothing could go wrong...until it does. Let me offer some words of encouragement to maybe help you navigate through this thing we call life.

When you feel, you can't keep going.

When you feel, no one cares.
When you feel, no one believes in you.
When you feel, you've nothing left.
When you feel, the odds are totally against you.
When doubt enters your head and tells you,
"It's not worth it".
Find a way to take the next step.
Keep going, my friend. Keep going.

Our Most Valuable Relationship

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

A misconception that mankind has is regarding relationships and how they should go. That we completely missed how important and effective they are to our daily lives. We at times miss use and abuse those who are closet to us. The biggest mistake we also do is make our relationship with our creator lesser than number one priority but a secondary one. The results of that mindset should send us into a panic but our lights are deeming so that we at times neglect to see that brick wall we are approaching in front of us. When we hit it is when we question it and wonder what happened?

Our preparation in and for life was and is out of alignment. Self-confession is good for the soul and demonstrates consciousness, being able to get back to a real reality. Now being presented with an opportunity to take an honest self-assessment. Key word self, not accusing others for our shortcomings. A real self-evaluation to obtain a true understanding. Regaining focus and recentering on life's divine purpose. A reconnection with our true power source, God and His intent for our true existence. Not the misguided fantasy, one which we created for ourself. Saturated in selfishness and a entitled way of thinking that is utterly destructive to anyone who cross our pathway at any giving time.

If we glass over our behavior as though it isn't a factor to our persona, we are just purchasing a one-way ticket to self-destruction and trust me it will come to collect. There is so much good in each one of us that God has made. That when we unite in a synergistic atmosphere and create that kind of environment many overwhelming things can be accomplished without jealousy, envy or strife. Just by doing that which we were created to contribute and we will cherish the experience and understand the opportunity given to us to participate. Being chosen to serve this is a gratifying moment that should make us aware and desire to again be a part of a duplicated experience.

Gaining a true understanding of the divineness of God and fortifying our relationship with Him and His principles navigates us towards true inner peace and a oneness. We then start to view life through an extremely different lens. We recognize when a door of opportunity opens up and we have been granted access to cross over the threshold into this new room to bring the synergetic atmosphere which we are a part of to create this new environment center around God's Divine Plan. Collective cooperation to get the job done. Our ways are not His ways, but acknowledge Him in all ways and He will direct your path. His word is a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our pathways. Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not to your own understanding.

Wow, We Really Don't Understand!

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

It is apparent every day that mankind has absolutely no understanding or ability to fully recognize God's grace and mercy. The reason I make this statement is due to our overwhelming distractions that diverts our attention away from the principles of God and causes us to follow delusional thinking and have an inability to truly see and understand the causes and their effects.

There are simple solutions to remedy the issues that are plaguing mankind but due to the reprobate mindset of mankind we are continually diving deeper into chaos and confusion. Have you ever been looking for something that is actually sitting right in front of you but you don't see it. But when you walk away clear your mind and focus, go back to same place and then start your search again and then you actually see it where it has been all the time right in front of you. You have to admit it utterly blows your mind.

Another thing we are guilty of at times is redirecting blame. Instead of being accountable for our individual actions we tend to shift blame off on another. We might get away with it temporarily however truth will eventually emerge and shine a bright light exposing everything. Most of the time the impact is more harmful than it would have been had we just been accountable and transparent at the beginning and not damage our integrity and credibility. The question then becomes have we truly learned anything from this experience? How many times do we have to continue into similar situations over and over before we get a real clue? Is that because we are that blind or just plain arrogant?

The clock is ticking but everyone has an unrealistic understanding what that truly means. As well as the urgency behind that statement for us to align ourselves up with the Will and Principles of God. Civilization has once again shifted our focus away from God following every trend and fad making ourselves more vulnerable following the things of this world. Have we not heard the statement that misery loves company. Many get so drawn into it subtly and consumed before they know it. This includes leadership.

In this nation we have 535 people who have requested to be a part of the decision-making process. So, they run for public office some have a clear and fresh understanding. While others have become complacent and detach from the needs of their core constituency. That they have lost focused on purpose and shifted attention to desiring to become part of a so called in crowd of elites. This is what happens when one gets detracted from the principal reasons why they had been selected to represent. This is the danger of not having the understanding of going from serving, to have a mindset of entitlement and expectation of being elevated because of the title and not works. Rather than pushing for things that will help and ease others way of life. But adapting to an agenda purposely joining in to invoke hardship, stall or dismiss things that will foster relief.

Getting so caught up and consumed by political parties failing in demonstrating the compassion of God and showing a respect of person rather than not. When clearly the Word of God speaks out against it. We all are to blame for this outcome some for pushing these agendas and others for being complacent by watching and not speaking out. Failing to understand that it is the Grace of God that affords any of us the opportunity to do what is right by others.

I always wonder what is wrong with our understanding. The pure love and innocence that we once possessed as a child became tainted and harsh. Drawing us further away from the Principles of God. Not allowing us to fulfill loving our neighbor as ourselves. Because our focus has been shifted to a self-destruction mood unable to see and cherish the actual blessings that God has provided, for the chasing after falsehoods and blindness. We all have to repent and refocus on that which is right in front of us and see the value and recognize the real blessings becoming content and enjoy it, it will take us all further.

God's peace brings true joy and understanding and blossoms into love. It's really simple not complex when you actually see and understand it. Then you will truly understand loving your neighbor as thyself. Then you will experience pure truth over a lie. So, in all your ways, not some, acknowledge Him and He shall, not might, shall direct your path. Follow these instructions to the letter and start experiencing and recognizing a greater today as well as tomorrow. As the Winan's once sang "It's gonna be alright that's just the way He planned it. It's gonna be okay, all you have to do is hold on." As you cross over the threshold into the New Year leave behind the things that do not edify God. Open yourself to the potential of using your gifts within the New Room aka New Year. With your new understanding you may sing "Where ever I go let your Spirit follow me!"

Seeing the Signs Of The Times

By Elder Diane Harvell

Seeing the signs of the times today means seeing an increase in the evil character of man, the constant opposition of the knowledge and truth of God, an increase of warfare, plagues, pestilence, false powers, and natural disasters are all signs of an inevitable doom to come yet with all these things, they haven't proven to be enough to turn our hearts to God.

A soon coming Savior is evident that this world has changed and not for better but for the worse.

Most of the world is now worshiping the beast of immorality, sexual sins of homosexuality, and idolatry. Their favorite flavor or person of the week is their motivation for living.

Fear of consequences for sin and wrongdoing has long gone and the church seems to have lost its savor to effect or turn the hearts of men toward God.

Moreover, there seems to be a diabolical hidden agenda not to have a Christian nation is becoming more and more evident each day. If immorality continues, then the very mention of God, Jesus or Righteousness will be outlawed.

As Christians we should be writhing in sorrow and earnestly praying, seeking God's spirit to return and once again permeate the earth with His presence. As a human race, there should be an alarm ringing within us with fear at the sight of a world that accepts an anything goes, and I do what I want to ideology.

All the signs of the beginning of sorrows have been exposed. And according to the Canonical Texts that makes the bible totally authentic whether you are a believer or not. The Gospels declare that:

False Prophets will arise and deceive many

Wars and rumors of wars

Nation will rise against nation & kingdoms against kingdoms

Earthquakes in various places

Famines and troubles

Although these things have already taken place, the bible says these things are just the beginning of sorrows. So, between now and the time of the Lord's return, we still have hope, and we still have opportunity to repent.

The signs of the end times can clearly be seen. The question is can we touch the heart of God through our prayers and cause Him to honor His Word in II Chronicles 7:14? "If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land."

We have the power to change the heart of God? According to His Word, yes, we do! All we must do is, humble ourselves, pray, seek His face, turn from sin, and then He will heal our land.

It's just that simple. Don't just see the sign of the times but be the example that will change the heart of God to heal our land.

Getting To That True Place of Thy Will Be Done

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

There is a funny thing about wills, it's apparent that we're truly about having things done our way. Doesn't matter about any suggestions because frankly we know what is right and we're determined to see it through no matter what. Even when we see someone else doing something and we try to make a suggestion and it gets rejected we have an issue. How dare them not to listen to me? Well, Ladies and Gentlemen, Brothers and Sisters this is known as a form of pride. The footnote also is if you have requested to have patience from God welcome to the testing ground. You better take notes and have an extremely great memory because it's about to become a bumpy ride, until you not the other person can yield your will.

As your will begins to be dealt with just imagine how humorous it is to God, just as the discovery period parents have with their children from infancy to kindergarten. A comedians most prosperous free material as you navigate through this process. The good news is you will be better for it on the other side. As long as you demonstrate endurance, remember we are talking about you. You know how stubborn you can be sometimes? I've been there done that and understand the journey your about to take or retake with yourself. Buckle up! Just follow God's directions and you will make it to your destination without getting completely lost or taking a bunch of detours to get you back on track.

Coming out of this transition you will be slow to anger and not speak so abruptly. Also, your listening skills will improve quickly and your understanding of things will be enhanced. Others around you will take notice because your overall disposition will have changed. This is because you have yielded your will to God's way. This is notable transformation indeed. Because of it you will impact the lives of others. Making you a more effective witness for the Kingdom. Putting exactly, we you desire to be in the seat of fulfillment. The first step is to step aside, listen and hear the voice of God speak to you and yield your entire will to His way receiving your reward for your obedience. You and I have delayed too long. Think about and you will agree.

Your New START

Proverbs 18:21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue; and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

True self-love is the commitment to objectively know yourself as you are, to fully experience life as it comes to you, and to honor your potential by continually seeking ways to grow.

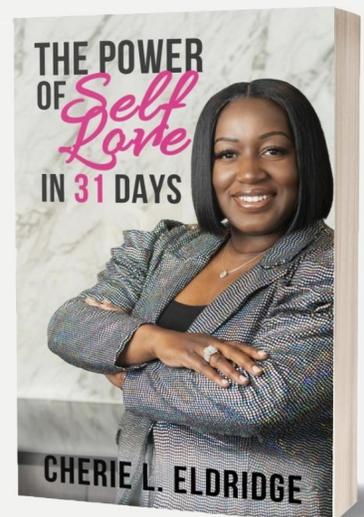

In life, we will face many challenges that can cause negative influence to our minds, bodies, and soul. You may even find yourself talking negative more than positive. You may find yourself feeling like quitting, or giving up, on your dreams or even your life. We have all made decisions based on negative influences from life's issues, circumstances, bad relationships, health, environment, jobs and so on. All of which may have put our thoughts in a negative space in which we now live in or call life.

This book was written to revive our minds, bodies, and our souls back to their healthy place where we will begin to experience joy, peace, love, good health, and even activate and live our dreams and purpose just by reciting daily, true affirmations based on life and the Word of God. My prayer is that once you have gone through these 31 days, that speaking life to yourself will be such a part of you that you will continue to not only speak life to yourself but others as well, as you see the change in you.

The Power to Self Love in 31 Days will help you increase in your belief of your own value and importance. It will help you to develop physically, mentally, and spiritually, resulting in personal growth.

The Subtle Task of Divide and Conquer

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

One of the most effective weapons thrust against mankind is the ability to divide any union demonstrating unity and conquer the very core of its strength creating discord. This has plagued mankind for generations giving us dysfunctional families with gaping wounds of mistrust brought on by deceptive practices that have been instilled throughout generations.

The fact that we are so emotional we fail in recognizing where the root source is and it has been taking root due to overwhelming distractions which lessens our focus so our society continues to plummet when and where we would have had greater success. Mainly in our family dynamics.

Today we have a lot of shows dealing with family and relationship issues. If one is paying close attention there are some very key components that are shared in just about all situations. Things like trust, transparency, communications, lack of respect, some form of structure with accountability and maturity. Sometimes an obstacle can be right in front of you but you don't recognize it because you're looking around or over the source of your contention. It's not until you really receive that one devastating blow do we wake up if we've been given grace to have that chance. Most of our time is spent being a blame thrower failing to understand that the first decision was ours to be a participant toward the outcome. No, is a part of everyone's vocabulary in any language. We have to get back to the place of understanding we ourselves have to be accountable for every decision we make. It's always going to be yes or no. If you're not accountable now you will be held accountable later.

Remove your emotions open your eyes and think towards the solution and not just the surface, but the depth of what our reactions will cause. Then do the mature and responsible thing respond to the situation so one can take the opportunity to grow into a greater outcome that builds success instead. Don't ponder and wonder just apply the principles that God requires and trust His promises for He knows best. After all He is our Creator and His understanding of who we are is infinite.

We only understand a fraction when it is revealed. He is all wise and knowing right down to the numbers of hairs upon your head in which we have no clue. Learn not to become victim to the subtle tactics of divide and conquer, be conscious of your current strong bonds and maintain and fortify when necessary. Don't throw out the baby with the bath water, but learn to nurture. There is strength within unity when you also incorporate the Lord this cord will then not break as a two-part twain.

We Always Seem to Contradict Ourselves

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

When we actually reflect on our lives, we find seasons where we actually contradict ourselves. Why? A lot of times this is because we lack understanding and once, we have a certain life experience we walk away with a different perspective. Learning that life in general can change us and our perceptions are providing new wisdom along with a deeper understanding of our once shortsighted opinions. The scriptures tell us;

Wisdom is the principal thing; Therefore, get wisdom: And with all thy getting get understanding. Proverbs 4:7 KJV

Our individual maturity also helps with our enlightenment, because prior to our daily opinionated mindset lacking experience we stood firm on what we believed. But God has a way of humbling us from ourselves and opening our eyes to the reality of the truth, where we cannot dispute it. It's when we can't let go of pride and hold onto stubbornness. We open ourselves up to as much as a public rebuke when we push our individual will against the lesson being instructed by God. How embarrassing is that? Ask those who pushed it so far that it got them a spot on the nightly news. They now wish they had an immediate change of heart. Because foolish doesn't wear well, it's quite annoying. Now they feel what others had the displeasure of experiencing. Goes to show another scripture; Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. Romans 12:19 KJV

Yet until that prescribe time God teaches those who wait the meaning of patience, mercy and grace. It is important that we become good students and stewards as we too transition towards a greater reflection of God. As we embrace this greater knowledge turning it in wisdom to impart to future generations to help maintain balance throughout the world. We can strive to make it greater than balanced by exceeding in compassion, grace and mercy. Therefore, loving our neighbor as ourselves.

As His grace allows us to progress to a new opportunity of time within the New Year. Let us transition over with the understanding of what we have learned grabbing a hold to humility, demonstrating increased genuine compassion, grace, mercy and patience for those who are gaining the same understanding that we have received through their now transition. This way we will cease from being our own contradiction.

The Signs Of The Time

Dr. Horace Brooks

Here we are in the month of November. In Indiana, we have seen the trees leaves change colors. We've gone from watermelons to pumpkins. The hot summer weather has changed to cold. The signs of the time, of summer leaving, fall appearing, and winter is on the way.

Reading the signs of nature is something that God has enable mankind to do. We see in scripture where the Pharisees and Sadducees came, testing Jesus, demanding that He show them a miraculous sign from heaven to prove His authority. Jesus said, "You know the saying, 'Red sky at night means fair weather tomorrow; red sky in the morning means foul weather all day.' You know how to interpret the weather signs in the sky, but you don't know how to interpret the signs of the times!"

Keep in mind these are men who should have known all about the signs of the End Time. Even though, the Pharisees and Sadducees had different theological interpretations of some scripture, that put them at odds with each other. The two groups managed to set aside their differences, when it came to Jesus Christ demise.

Jesus goes on to say, "Only an evil, adulterous generation would demand a miraculous sign, but the only sign I will give them is the sign of the prophet Jonah." After telling them that, He left them and went away.

The study of Eschatology, or End Times events are in the bible not to scare us but to encourage us and prepare us for what's to come. Just like the Pharisees and Sadducees, people have different theological interpretations of scripture. Personally, as long as we believe that there is only one way to salvation, and that is through Jesus Christ. Our interpretations can sometimes be mute.

Here's one in Matthew 24:34 Jesus says, "Assuredly, I say to you, this generation will by no means pass away till all these things take place." Yes, this is only one verse, I have taken into consideration the verses above this and below it as well.

So, was Jesus saying that all end-time prophecies must be fulfilled during the first century, as some say? I don't think so, my understanding of the scriptures, and study indicates that Jesus was saying that the generation who witness the signs stated, will be around when it's fulfilled. This is also true for the future remaining End-time prophecies.

Jesus told the Pharisees and Sadducees, "Only an evil, adulterous generation would demand a miraculous sign, but the only sign I will give them is the sign of the prophet Jonah." That generation witness the death, burial, and resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

The birth pains, of the end of time has been going on, way before I was born. Nations against nations. We had The Revolutionary War, The Civil War, World War One, World War Two, The Korean War. I have witnessed The Cold War, Vietnam, and Desert Storm.

Parents turning against children, children killing their parents. The signs are all around us. Jesus return is imminent. Just like in the days of Noah we don't know when it will happen.

In my study of Eschatology, I'm not claiming to be an expert in it. But I am saying I was encouraged by it, and not frightened. The prophecies of the things to come is not there to scare us, but to encourage us and prepare us. So, we should be a prepared people for a prepared place. Because we don't know when Jesus is coming back to rapture us unto Himself. I came away from my studies with, we should be preparing ourselves and others for the one-by-one departure.

Looking at Matthew 24, Jesus disciples who came to him wanting to know what would, be the sign of His coming, and of the end of the age?" Jesus gives them End Time essentials in this chapter.

I want to use just one, that is great for End Time and now. Verse 4 Jesus said, "Take heed that no one deceives you."

Take heed to yourself. When you start seeing the signs of the times, when you start seeing the making of the one world government, when you start seeing a cashless society, people using EBT cards for food, when you start seeing the shadows of the Antichrist and his system. Know for sure everything that the Bible predicts will happen. The number one thing that is essential for you is, take heed to yourself that no one deceives you.

I have seen people who started out with Jesus get bamboozled, hoodwinked, into believing other things, and rejecting the truth of Christ. The spirit of the antichrist is here.

Take heed, how's my relationship with Jesus? How's my passion for God? When I think about the Lord do I get stirred up? How's my life, do I just want to please Him? Take heed to yourself, am I consecrated? Am I living a life that I can live again? Am I picking up my cross and following Christ daily?

You know in 1st John it says that everyone that has this hope, that is the coming of the Lord's return purifies himself even as He is pure.

1st Thessalonians 4:13-18 Let's us know Jesus is coming back. If my body has returned back to the earth before Jesus returns. It will rise again when Jesus returns, to everlasting life with Him. If I'm still alive when He returns I will be caught up to meet Him in the air and be with Him forever more. Because someone of this generation, might see the return of Christ. I say take heed, and for those, who might get left behind. There is still hope. Revelation 7:9-13 lets us know that. But I would rather leave in the rapture.

The Signs of The Time is all around us, take heed.

THINK ABOUT IT

Don't be interested in meeting the persona of a person. Get to know and understand the essence that's the real individual in their true and purest form.
