Society has never addressed or fixed the devastation that is derived from a separation or divorce. There is so much loss that has taken place from this event that is far reaching but never really considered. Some of the extended members of the family live in silent pain due to the loss as if it were actually a death. Others never consider the impact because of their own emotional baggage. One decision, one initial event, a rippling impact of hurt all created by an impulse decision that never considered or understood what outcome it would create.

We mention this because it can create a conscious for someone before it becomes mayhem. For another it can start the processes for mending and healing through the struggles that are already present but not really understood. Loss realized is a very hurtful thing and for some it just can't be swept under a rug because another says just get over it. This is easy for a person to say who lacks understanding, compassion and is self-absorbed without the ability to reason. Mental illnesses sometimes are derived behind our inability to effectively bring enlightenment, accountability, ownership or resolution into a situation in which we have helped to create due to one's own lack of understanding and pride. Behaviors when uncorrected produce unwanted outcomes and future issues for many.

For example, depending on the emotional outcome following the split determines the outcome of other relationships that had been formed during a relationship of two people. Here is the bigger picture in content when we are in any form of relationship there is a connection made a soul tie. The longer the relationship the stronger the soul tie becomes. We make an imprint on one another so when it is dissolved it is impactful. Our experience creates memories both good and bad. This issue is to offer some healing and enlightenment to a possible path forward.

FITNESS MADE EASY

Sgt. Nate Griffin

Each month, I've covered some aspect of health and wellness in the body of Christ with the intent to share valuable information that would help us live a physically healthy life along with a spiritually healthy one. Education and information on this subject I have found to be lacking in the African American community as a whole. Heart disease, kidney disease, strokes, hypertension, obesity and many other abnormalities are the leading causes of death in our community that is for the most part, preventable through diet and exercise. Not many people want to talk about them or make the necessary changes to correct these "generational curses" with Holy Ghost discipline. Instead, they rather "pray" about it and let the Lord remove it. It's the same thing Naman did when the man of God told him to just dip 7 times in the dirty Jordan River. He protested and want the man of God to just wave his hand over the diseased body part and pronounce a healing. Jesus told the blind man to go and wash. In other words, there is something "we" must do in regards to our healing and the rest, leave to God.

As people of God, we must apply the same demand and discipline on our lives to live a healthy life as we do for adulterers, thieves, murderers, drunkards and the rest to live a holy life. For remember, the scripture says, "Do you not know that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you whom you have received of God? You are not your own". I Corinthen 6:9. There are a few other passages on the subject of our bodily stuart-ship that we'll discuss during the zoom meeting.

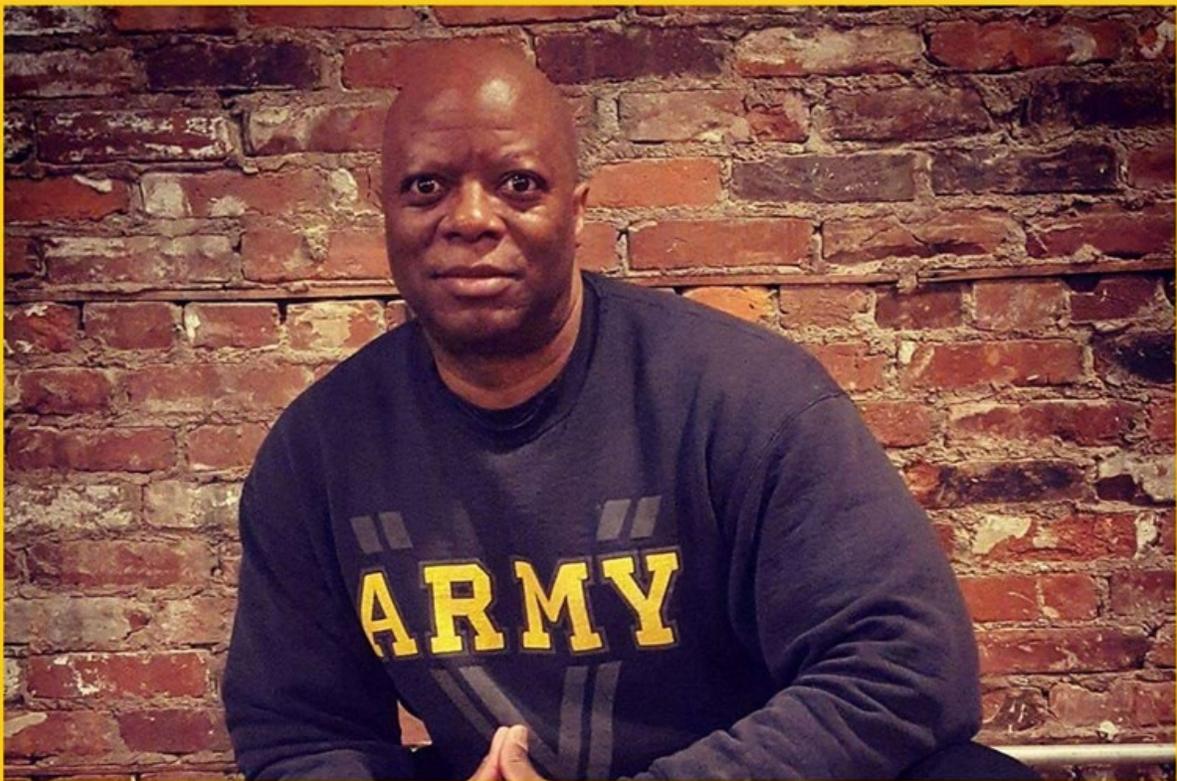

If you live in the Philadelphia area, I'm offering a summer-fall outdoor bootcamp program. It's loosely based on my military fitness training and held at the historic, Washington Square Park (7th and Walnut) and is open to all fitness levels. During these workouts modifications can be made where needed. There is no yelling of dehumanizing. Yet, you will know you've been trained by a military veteran. If you wish to attend, just log onto my website, www.sgtnatefitness.com and go to my store to purchase you day pass for only $20 per class. If you want to attend the ZOOM meeting on fitness, please see the link below.

I hope to see many of you on August 27th at 1200pm est for this sure to be an amazing zoom meeting discussion. Stay well and soldier on!

The Aftermath

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

The aftermath created after a separation or divorce is an emotional rollercoaster and race for allies. Because the real truths are grayed out there's is a great opportunity for deception and emotional casualties for those family and friends who can't balance being neutral and decide to go in one direction or another, way before truth is revealed. When truth emerges then comes the onset of regret for many reasons misjudgment being one.

The biggest problem derived in the mist of everything that is transpiring is the impact on the truly innocent, the children should there be any from the union. When all of the newly created chaos and confusion of emotions and power struggles they become an afterthought not a forethought. Studies have shown this to be a factor and it remains the key issue long after all the paperwork is completed. An impact with internal scares that could become far reaching and, in some cases, devastating. Because some children have serious issues processing the impact from those events and many others leading up to the finalization of the paperwork.

The impact from the loss of presence and the stability that once was present can truly have a devastating effect. Since in most cases the mother is given custody by the judicial system whereby families with boys have it much hard due to the absence on a daily bases of father's presence. Boys tend have emotional scares and even abandonment issue and blame their fathers deeply without the knowledge and understanding of what may have resolved the parental relationship. It does take its toll; girls feel it too but they do have the benefit of their mother's influence which in most cases helps them to develop into a strong mind and even sometimes independent women gleaning from the strength of a mother.

One thing we must all remember relationship break up for many reasons. Stereotyping all men or women into characteristics that they don't practice creates bigger troubles and resentment when the factual truth is exposed. Which could cost the remaining bond children have with their parent to be significantly damaged. Especially when it is determined that they missed out on a lot during their formative years and may have also experience the loss if a parent or a once close relative in which these circumstances cut off previous communications. Now that they have transition from this life there is no why to restart or rekindle

The couple in question needs to take all of these things into account and find a way to truly minimize the overall impacted that comes from this life alter event.

A Thought To Consider

If we would treat people like an assorted box of chocolates because you really can't judge them from the outside. But when you bite into them you savor the flavor from the encounter to which you've just experience and that's what makes it special. If we could just connect with the essence of the people we meet, imagine what great connections we could really have. Because the spirit/essence of a person is who they truly are from the inside out not the outside in. Just think about we dress up the outside to fit in. That can be very exhausting especially when that is not who you truly are. Are you tired of putting on a show?

IMPACTS OF DIVORCE

By Elder Diane Harvell

Family-It was in the beginning when God instituted family and first communicated his love, blessing, provision, plan, purpose and will. The concept of family was the very first institution God created. Genesis 1:26- And God said let us (divine family) make man in our image, after our likeness (divine family likeness): and let them (family companionship) have dominion (rulership in love) over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. Through the family, God communicated man's capacity, ability, responsibility, and accountability by setting rules, guidelines and boundaries, along with consequences for disobedience.

Man created generational curses when we do not acknowledge God and his ordinances for mankind. And after knowing the will of God, when we choose not to retain knowledge of God, we implore a generational curse upon ourselves and our future children and future families until that curse is broken. How do we break this curse? FIRST, WE MUST BELIEVE IN GOD

Belief in Christ-The bible says in Hebrews 11:6-"But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him."

Our spirit is the birthing place of who we are....

The word of God tells us that there are 3 parts of man: We have a spirit; we possess a soul, and we live in a body. All 3 must be properly nurtured if not, we will experience an insatiable void or longing within ourselves. And if this void is not fulfilled, this can and will open doors to:

Co-Dependent Relationships & Soul Ties

Whether heterosexual, homosexual, a co-dependent family member, or a fornicator, Co-Dependency is depending on anything other than God to fulfill a need. And if a person's reasons for dependency is from drug addiction, alcoholism, a reaction from a broken family, abuse, fear of men, hatred of men, hatred of women, or whether through a failed marriage, or peer pressure or influence of environment, these liaisons are still unacceptable according to the Word of God.

Anger-a feeling of extreme displeasure, hostility, or exasperation toward someone or something. Anger is an emotion and is not sinful. Ephesians 4:26 says, "Be ye angry, and sin not; let not the sun go down upon your wrath:" Therefore, anger is a normal response to a perceived mistreatment or wrong.

Causes of anger:

Hurt or offended through rejection, humiliation, or criticism.

Need to control

Angry at self

Disappointed (Feeling hopeless)

Sexual & Emotional Addictive Behaviors

Sexual addictive behaviors first occurred with the fall of man, satanic attacks, and oppression. When the root of a person's rejection is because of one's self-evaluation their object of desire conflicts with the will & the love of God. For the sense of satisfaction, the person will spend limitless time pursuing that object of desire. Although he or she may feel out of control or even depressed by it, they will remain committed to the addiction and will continue to pursue it!

What motivates the person to continue within this addictive behavior is that inner void that was never healed or dealt with or closed! And the memory of sensual pleasures, hinders the light of Jesus Christ and the flow of His Spirit! The greatest hinderance to one's deliverance is denial of how serious these behaviors are and what is really taking place! Separation from God! II Peter 2:19b-for of whom a man is overcome, of the SAME is he brought in BONDAGE!

THEREFORE:

We need to confess our faults

We need God's Holy Spirit

We need to support each other

We need to speak God's Word over our lives

We need to Forgive ourselves and others so that,

HEALING MUST TAKE PLACE

I Thessalonians 5:22-24-Abstain from all appearance of evil. 23-And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit, and soul, and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. V-24-Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

Some of the questions that one asks when seeking fulfillment in life are:

"Who Am I?"

"Where is my place in life?"

"What do I do with my life?"

"What is my purpose?"

"In my church, am I really receiving what I need for my life?"

"Is there any meaning or eternal value to life?"

"What is my purpose?"

"What is God's expected end for me?"

Therefore, these questions are known as IPPS or Identity, Position, Purpose, and Significance. These questions are spiritual in nature and can only be understood in relationship to our original glory-that which we were, before the Fall of man! The glory we lost in the garden can only be regained by being restored to God through salvation and accepting His individual plan for our lives!

Without God, human nature will always seek to find answers to these questions through our "world system," but will never be able to satisfy the inner longing for our original glory. Only in relationship to God can those needs be satisfied, and these questions answered!

Divorce means to separate or dissociate from something. Therefore, a divorce cannot only occur between a man and wife, but it can also occur between God and man.

Divorce and the impact of divorce was never God's intention, but he allowed it. In Matthew 19:8 Jesus said, "Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, permitted you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it was not so."

And so, God's expected end for us is this:

Jeremiah 29:11-13-"For I know the thoughts I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end. V.12 -Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

V.-13-And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart."

May God Bless You All!

Something To THINK ABOUT

Exposed, truth will always emerge.

To coin a phrase "You ain't slick". A lot of people have a miss conception about themselves and that is they truly believe they can intimate others through the power they don't have, tell a convincing lie and manipulate a situation under a false narrative and really believe they are getting away with it. However, the Winans had a song called Payday and part of lyrics was "is coming after while..." This is FACT! God has never relinquished His position as Creator. I AM That I AM for any of us.

To be arrogant enough to think that we truly control things is a myth on our part and the most dangerous place to be positioned. It is completely by grace and mercy that we are in the position to which we occupy. The understanding must be that we recognize it and continue to humble ourselves and apply obedience to maintaining the right alignment with the principles of God. Or our fall from grace will be devastating and highly exposed and that will be from our own doing and disobedience demonstrating true cause and effect. We have to always reassess our actions and motives in order not to get caught out there in a reprobate mindset.

Our society has really taken on the posture of manipulation within so many areas not having the understanding that the principles of God have been in place since creation. No matter how mankind spins trying to put their will in place the principles of God will respond. History will prove this fact, remember the Word of God teaches that there is nothing new under the sun. So check out the outcomes from those attempts to forecast what may not have been considered in your thought pattern. Everything will eventually be exposed and truth will emerge and accountability will come to collect.

Poison Pudding

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

Just by the title your mind says what in the world is this? Poison Pudding is what is created when we cover up our part in any given situation where we want to be seen as the right one. We over exaggerate the circumstances seeking allies in difficult situations to the point of damaging and demeaning another's character. Failing to realize in every situation there are three sides to every given story. Yours, theirs and then there is the one that really counts and holds the greatest merit and that is God's. We fail in the moment to realize and understand that He is omnipresent so there are no walls to hide behind. Our fantasy accountment of what truly happened will take second place when truth emerges whether it takes place now or in a death bed confession because we desire to have a clear conscience. Truth will come forth cover ups and distorted truth which has impacted so many to condemn the innocent, and robe so many of time will present a devastating blow.

Anger for the deception will be harder than the lie which was present in the onset of the situation. Because one has robbed so many of such valuable connections. One party has put their agenda first while the other has humbled themselves and waited on truth to emerge. The impact though caused from this deception has robbed the unity, as while as the benefit of everyone still being able to benefit from both individuals throughout this period of time. One's targeted attacks has truly damage the village especially over a long period of time. "The people perish due to the lack of knowledge." In the mist of wanting and trying to have the upper hand our vision is clouded by selfishness, arrogance and lack of compassion for the innocent who are unaware and truly the victims other than the initial parties within the situation.

Now the poison pudding has spread to a greater fall out. When and if we do consider what could be the total impact and have the wherewithal of consciousness there could be a mature solution to lessen or completely eliminate any foreseen damage. Which this emotional rollercoaster can create multiple casualties. Having to later take responsibility for them may prove overwhelming and even devastating because the trapped set for one when truth emerges will in fact turn and consume the other. When the innocent mature in their knowledge reasoning will also help in the emerging of truth thereby foiling the deception that has been projected.

The poison pudding in a divorce impacts and effects the children of a union. Because the parents have forced them into having to orchestrate a balancing act without understanding all of the optics before them. Within the scheme of things, a majority of the time the male child in the formative years goes lacking and the female child is impacted greatly in the later years. If you focus on families of divorce and separation without reconcile the statics will prove this theory to be true. Not to ignore the mental scares imposed that have been thrust upon various members especially the children due to divorce for whatever reason. These things are never taken into account at the initial stage of a union unless one has been a victim of a divorce situation then they try harder not to repeat or experience the curse.

Extended family's members have also felt the impact of the poison pudding grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins and friends who were active participants in the family's daily lives. Now, they have to choose a side based on blind knowledge never really knowing or understanding the actual truth. Premarital discussion and counseling can help to minimize and prevent the creation of the poison pudding. Have the so-called tough conversation and explore the unknown understandings that you may have, never assume anything without verify it firsthand for the facts. The Bible tells us in all thy getting get an understanding. theory to be true.

God has provided man the opportunity to really stop and self reflect on ourselves. With this opportunity, we can do an inward search and reflect on that which we have been given by God as a blessing (The simplest things such as family and loved ones that are near us.), while also identify some untapped talents and abilities we knew not of. Reconnecting with who and what should have meant the most. Coming away with an appreciation of what has been in our midst all along but we failed to recognize. Once we have gained this understanding take a sigh of relief and say "Thank you, God, and forgive me for my ungratefulness!"

Pathway to Harmony

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

This is a key sentiment within the scriptures because it helps to eliminate many fears which could create issues that should have never been. A rush to judgment has historically created unwanted outcomes as well as character assassination where it has not been merited.

We have to be more diligent in uncovering facts as well as motives and not jump to accusations or conclusions. One of the best ways to do that is to start with ourselves and check our emotions because sensible reasoning goes out window when emotions are high and we hasty access leading to the wrong decision.

Always be observant to situation around you recognizing pattern and behavior changes. Understanding and acknowledging when things get out of sorts can help you because we are conscious to atmosphere and environments that are around us. We tend to instinctually do it in concern for children why not each other. Because in their case we choose not to have regrets, so let's extend that sentiment.

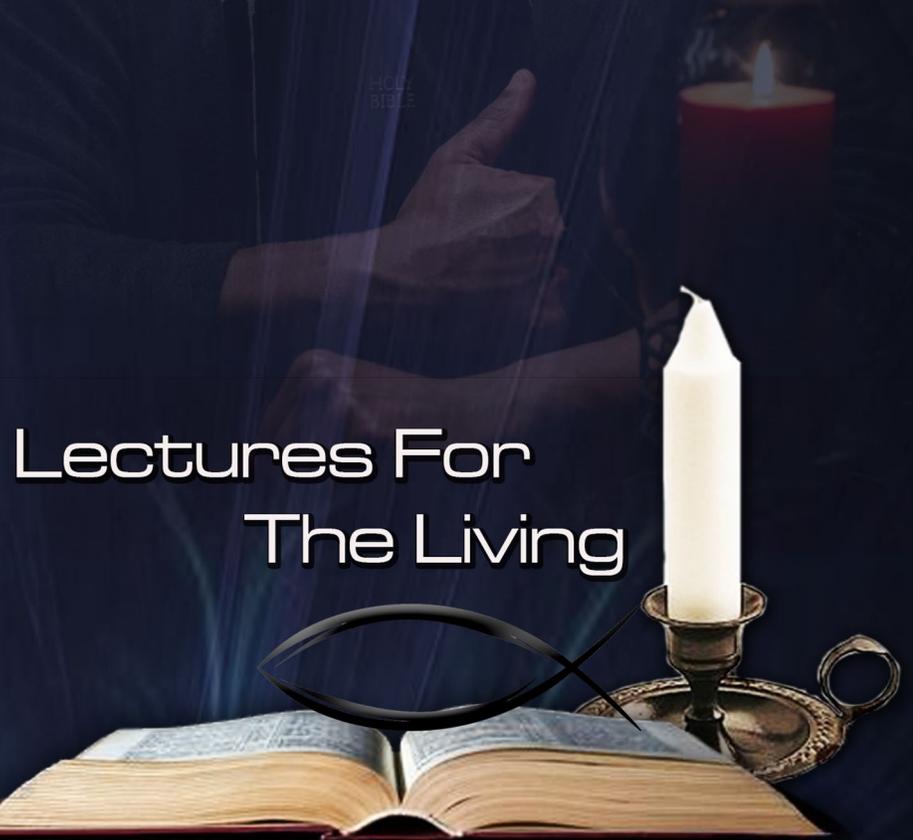

Get to the root of the situation will lead you to the truth quicker than speculating just back track the circumstances back to any given situation. Relationship can be difficult enough but when inaccurate emotions are involved due to fears. This is best form of action to the truth.

Having an understanding in a relationship one has to consider all aspects of your mate. Which Intel's going back to their being first to understand their upbringing and the events within their lives that has impacted their character. What drives their endeavors, to that which fuels their fears. Understanding their goals will help to illuminate their desired path and bring all around understanding.

THINK ABOUT IT

Don't be interested in meeting the persona of a person. Get to know and understand the essence that's the real individual in their true and purest form.

When I Truly Render Myself

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

Apprehension is a common thing that confronts us on occasions. The amount of residency is determined by how long it takes for us to rise up in strength and faith to counteract our share and doubts taking on our respective assignments and positions given by God. Coming in alignment to whose we are, this can happen within moments or years. Then with that understanding comes access to many doors. Realizing that "No weapons form against me shall prosper, all that rise up against me shall fall..." It comes down to knowing and understanding our true identity from the inside out. Once understood then walking in from that understanding from that time forward. Because the harvest is plentiful but the labors our are few.

We have allowed the world to give us a misunderstanding of our true purpose and for some the gifts and talents lay dormant. Never becoming active to allow you to walk in your true potential and God get the glory from you real gifts and talents. So, you are sidelined as a spectator and you have become disenchanted with the masses. But had you step into your calling how the atmosphere and environments around us would have benefited the more.

It's easy to be critical, murmur and complain. But God has provided each one of keys to various door that give us opportunities to serve the Kingdom by being a contributor to fulfilling God's purpose. Remember we were not created by mistake but on purpose. Jeremiah 29:11 makes this abundantly clear. "For I know the thoughts I think towards you sayeth the Lord thoughts of peace and not of evil to give you an expected end" It is our relationship with Him that brings it all out and to the forefront. If you are reading this a don't feel like you are at the right place in your life. If your disenchanted with your current outcome, what are you neglecting to do to get there. Are we in complete alliance and alignment? Are we so stubborn that we won't yield to that which we know in our hearts that God is prompting us to not just for the benefit of ourselves, but that of others through our obedience?

It's the enemy's job to throw road blocks, hesitation, frustration and even doubt. We all have an opportunity to do something magnificent and be magnificent for someone else with God's help. Don't you want to hear the words spoken unto you "Well done thy good and faithful servant enter in to your reward. Our experiences in life can serve as bridges over what could have been trouble waters for another. But our testimonies serve as reassurance and hope for one seeking an answer and needing guidance. Our presence becomes their key to a new opportunity not for any glory or bragging rights but as a true testament of God's grace and mercy.

The condition to which we see our world today is solely on us for disobedience to the principles of God. The atmosphere around us is responding by the things that are taking place, we have become repetitive in actions falling to understand that there is nothing new under the sun. So, because we do not study properly we repeat the same missteps and soon will experience some of the same outcomes.

History has recorded many great and prosperous civilizations who have neglected the principles of God and have been destroyed with barely a trace. But society has emboldened itself to walking down that same path as if the proven outcome will change as if God's principles have been lifted. It is also bold to stand and say that God has made a mistake in His decisions regarding us and we have the power to change to what we feel it should be. That's is dangerous and a reprobate mindset the only way back from that is repentance. The Bible clearly states after death then judgement. Can you stand before God and make the same bold statements and assumptions? This is the question because when you stand before Him, we stand alone we were all given the freedom of choose. After considering all that you have read. Do yourself a favor and reevaluate your life on a regular basis so that you can be in alignment with the principles of God. Salvation is free all we have to do is commit to it. If you slip up ask for forgiveness and do your first works over again. Allow the blessing of the Lord to rest upon you and your family.
