In times of great challenges, trials and circumstances, it can be extremely difficult to maintain a sense of faith, positivity and optimism throughout the ordeal. However, just as an angel of the Lord came to Jesus's aide in the wilderness following his 40 day and 40-night ordeal, we too can be given the necessary tools to battle the enemy and weather the storm until it passes.

At the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. I sat in my room and began to look around to see what I had left. At the time, I had lost my fitness studio, and all of my in-person clients all the year before the pandemic hit. So, instead of looking at what I'd lost I want to be more optimistic and see what I had remaining. Similar to the widow woman who when Elijah asked her what did she have left during the famine. She replied, "I have some empty vessels around the house". He instructed her to find as many as she could and even go check with her neighbors for more if necessary. Gather them, and watch God move on her behalf. She did and He did! So, with that illustration in mind. I asked myself, what do I have round here or what talent haven't I tapped into yet that I could commit to the Lord to use to sustain me until this famine passes.

Enter my first book, Soldier On, forging ahead despite the odds. As I looked around, I noticed that each day on my Facebook page in the memories section. There were always some posts I'd placed featuring some inspirational quotes. I began to wonder if I had enough to compile into a book. Lo and behold, I did! I noticed these quotes were very encouraging to me even though I'd spoken them over the past 10 years to my clients during their workouts and training sessions. I gathered them together, consulted my brother who had previously worked with a friend to procure a publisher. And was able to submit my manuscripts for publishing.

It doesn't matter if you're a student of philosophy, the bible, entrepreneur, business owner, student of academics, a man struggling with depression and the challenges of life, a woman dealing with a life she desired eluding her, a young adult or a seasoned citizen. You will find the writings in this book very encouraging and inspiring. Each quote is written in a different font and comes with a brief commentary to better bring the points presented.

We all need encouragement from time to time. The scriptures speak of King David, Encouraging himself. My hope is that you will find the pages of this book to be most helpful during the difficult times as well as the times of great joy. There are various formats to choose from. Hard copy, soft copy, e-book and audio book. Once you've read your copy, reach out to me with your thoughts and feedback. I'd love to hear how the words the Lord gave to me for you have touched you. God bless and Soldier On!

US Army veteran Sgt. Nate Griffin shares inspiration and insight in 'Soldier On!'

New book is a collection of quotes that empowers readers to forge ahead despite the odds

UPPER DARBY TOWNSHIP, Pa. – In his first publishing foray titled “Soldier On!” (published by Xlibris), Sgt. Nate Griffin offers readers a collection of inspirational and insightful quotes that seek to empower readers, help them readjust their focus and find the inner strength needed to continue life’s journey.

Over the past 40 years, Griffin has encountered challenges that have left him feeling hopeless, fearful, powerless and lost. Each of these experiences has inspired one of the many quotes contained in this book. Through these writings, he aims to build “mental toughness” in the individual venturing into his/her professional career or tackling the day-to-day grind of everyday life. Combining his military and religious training and upbringing, the author hopes to guide readers to find their own personal uniqueness and develop it to become the best version of themselves possible.

“In light of recent pandemics, social unrest, economic setbacks, and personal failures, this book will help empower the reader to search deep within themselves to find that intrinsic motivation that’s needed to press toward the mark of their higher calling. This book will help each reader realize, just as they have overcome past challenges, the ones they may currently be facing, will also soon pass in time. If they can just weather this storm long enough, the journey will be well worth it.

“Soldier On!” will appeal to leaders, mentors, students, business owners, entrepreneurs, or anyone seeking personal development.

About the Author

Sgt. Nate Griffin has an associate degree in general studies, a bachelor’s degree in leadership development, is an ordained evangelist, a former U.S. Army sergeant and medic, as well as a singer-songwriter with several independent recordings to his credit. He has performed in concert throughout the U.S. and Johannesburg, South Africa, performed the national anthem at the Philadelphia Phillies Fourth of July Game, performed on the steps of the Philadelphia Art Museum during the passing of the Olympic torch during the Winter Games, and even performed the National Anthem during his own graduation from Peirce College. “Soldier On!” is his first published work.

WHY?

By Elder Diane Harvell

The word why denotes the reason and the meaning of a thing and the purpose of it...it commands a response or a reason.

why commands a strong answer and a concrete understanding for every circumstance and purpose. In other words what is the purpose for anything that we do or what is the purpose for anything that is said, done, made, created, or being? If we don't have an understanding or purpose for these things, then life would remain a mystery and puzzling! There is a "Why?" for every emotion. Why love someone? Why hate someone? Why bless someone? Why have an opinion? Why have a thought? Why love God? Why hate God? Why wake up why lie down? Why is there depression? Why is there happiness? Why is there sadness? For every purpose, there is a "why" before it and a because after it. There will always be a Cause and Effect both play very important roles for the understanding and purpose of everything. So why should or shouldn't we do anything?

One part of this dichotomy is, why should one have faith or why should one have hope? Hebrews 12:1 says Because we are surrounded by "a great cloud of witnesses" in other words, the saints of the past. Which means in a unique way we are to be inspired by their great examples of faith. Not that they are in heavenly places, looking at our lives in scrutiny at what we are doing. But the saints of old set examples of hope and faith during their difficult days yet still encouraged themselves and others by reason of their perseverance and hope that was set before them. And there were many examples of their faith to which we honor. Now we who are alive and remain can glean from what others have sewn, encouraging others with hope and faith.

The second part of this dichotomy is God's promise to restore Israel after their captivity in Babylon. Psalms 126:6-"He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

This scripture answers every cause and effect of "WHY?"

"WHY?" is such a pertinent subject with everything that is happening in the world today. But take it or leave it, the holy scriptures, the holy bible is being fulfilled before our eyes and everything that was prophesied has come and it's right on schedule. So why should one go on? The answer is because every human being is instinctively expecting to receive that promise of “rejoicing” after many days of weeping upon this earth! Everyone expects a “light at the end of the tunnel” blessing.

And so the promise of the Holy One, Jesus said in Matthew 24:13—“he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.” That’s His promise to us, and when we endure to the end, that’s our promise to Him.

There is also an old hymn called “Bringing in the Sheaves” that is predicated on Psalm 126:6. Wheat is a very popular food and when the seed is planted it grows into sheaves. But first it must be planted and harvested at a certain time of the year. It cannot grow until long after a rainy season then the sheaves are bundled up and tied together, and ready to harvest.

Therefore, when we become aware of the cause and effect concerning our lives, and when we learn to cultivate the precious gift of life that we have been given, then we shall understand endurance, perseverance and faith mixed with tears will only make us grow because they are mixed with the only Power that can give abundant life through Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior!

We shall come rejoicing and our works shall follow us!
Never give up but endure to the end!

A Lesson On The Three O's

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

My Pastor recently was speaking with our men's group at our monthly fellowship breakfast and of course he always blesses us with great insight, gold nuggets wisdom and knowledge. He has always been good at explaining as well as illustrating the why's behind his statements. Then of course God comes along validates the word that has been sent through him. This seems to have been the trend that has happened through several leaders I have been led to sit under. For those who did not have that ability my tenure was short lived for the protection of my spiritual growth. Then my question becomes why aren't many focused on the impact that has been provided through the delivered Word. Do we truly recognize our individual transformation? Then the follow-up question becomes then why is our testimony and zeal so weak? To me it makes attending church more or less just a routine to say that we have accomplished what we feel is a requirement. What happened to our relationship with God is there not any real joy that excites us. Church is one thing a relationship provides another whole different perspective at least for me. It extends beyond the Church doors without limitation. The meaning of "I can do all things through Christ that strengthens me" is much more and realized than the neatly packed boxed Jesus' relationship that most tend walk away with because they have not truly experienced the real omnipresent God. When you do, He will elevate your five senses in such a way your zeal will become off the charts.

Let me circle the wagon back to what my Pastor stated in his statement regarding the 3 O's, he illustrates it on one premise but then the Holy Spirit expanded its impact to me in other areas of understanding. Won't He, do it? Yes, He will! That's a portion of demonstrated zeal. Okay, back to the 3 O's: Observation, Opinion, Opportunity, they work wonderfully hand in hand. Observation allows to learn, comprehend and understand so many things when we apply proper time to do so. Haste makes waste and major mistake. Microwave mentality robs of the essence that should be a part of the experience, truly what is the rush, individual experience will demonstrate that we always seem to miss a vital step or experience to the outcome. Our lack of patience sometimes allows us to miss God's intent for us whereby we have to wait for His Grace to allow it to comeback around for its full blessing.

Opinions come from observation; we formulate trust factors on that which we actually see. It also allows us to elevate readiness and maturity. On the other side of the coin an understanding of whether or not we should refrain from advancing into something at any given time. Greater evaluation in balancing out our decision to where it will be the best benefit for all within their respective areas. Opinion allows for flexibility to lengthen or shorten allotments of time and proper reasoning. There in some case becoming one of two keys that opens the door to Opportunity. When we apply it to the first key Observation?

Observation demonstrates for us that the abilities in which we seek are present lending to the Opinion that our confidence in the process being able to be fulfilled by the trust that has been gain by the behaviors and maturity displayed to afford and the doorway for Opportunity for fulfillment can be opened up to complete the process. These are vital steps towards progress in many if not all situations.

When we truly think about how we. process decision a majority of the time these elements are present and part of the success of the transition from one point to another. Minus any of these components tends to send us back to the drawing board to fix or begin again. In all we do and learn observation is the number one key to our understanding.

"Death and life are in the power of the tongue; and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof."
Proverbs 18:21

Words have power! They have the power of life and death actually. The Power of Self Love in 31 Days is an affirmation devotional to help you speak life and love yourself by declaring positive words and the Word of God. As you read the affirmations out loud, daily, you will be reminded of your greatness and inner beauty.

True self-love is the commitment to objectively know yourself as you are, to fully experience life as it comes to you, and to honor your potential by continually seeking ways to grow. Cherie L. Eldridge is a licensed minister and a life coach. This book is a testament of her personal journey with God which led her to becoming whole and taught her to love herself. She shares categorical and affirmative statements that she personally used to help empower you to learn to love yourself, too!

The Power of Self Love in 31 Days will help you increase in your belief of your own value and importance. It will help you to develop physically, mentally, and spiritually, resulting in personal growth. God does not want us to go through life filled with hate, insecurities, disappointment, and confusion. God desires for us to be made whole. Being made whole is the state of forming a complete and harmonious whole being, unbroken or undamaged. That is what you deserve and this book will help start you on that journey.

With God all things are possible! No matter where you are in your life right now, by reciting and believing the affirmations in this book, a great change will take place in your life for the good. If you believe, you will experience the power of God's love and self-love in just 31 days!

Why Do We Operate In An Obvious Mindset

Dr. C.A. Dangerfield II

In viewing the daily news listening to the reports rendered. It simply amazes me to how obvious everyone seems to appear about our world-wide situations caused by several events. At least 50% of them or more are due to cause and effect. Meaning that mankind's disobedience to the principles of God has initiated a response within our atmosphere proving that Word of God is valid. The biggest issue is some of these same violations have taking place before throughout history. Clearly demonstrating that man doesn't pay attention nor does he study the Word of God effectively and taking heed not to travel down these same paths.

Our comprehension of God's principles is a must for all of mankind. Some of our home environments clearly demonstrate the increase of lack of understanding as well as a clear lack of knowledge of things which should have been shared and instilled within the home. One thing for certain is we are embarking on an event just as bad or as worst as Sodum and Gomorrah record within the Word of God along with the reason for the event to help mankind defer from repeating the behavior.

However, mankind has chosen to ignore it as though it was some fantasy story. Not so "His Word will NOT come back void". Man's blatant disregard for the Word of God is also a clear demonstration that mankind is falling into a broader reflection of a reprobated mindset. For those who are unsure of what reprobate means Webster Dictionary defines reprobate as: (Entry 1 of 3)

: an unprincipled or depraved person : SCOUNDREL, ROGUE

Reprobate adjective

Definition of reprobate (Entry 2 of 3)

1a: morally corrupt : DEPRAVED

b: foreordained to damnation

2: of, relating to, or characteristic of a reprobate reprobate conduct

3: expressing or involving reprobation

4*archaic* : rejected as worthless or not standing a test : CONDEMNED

Reprobate verb

rep·ro·bate | \ 're-prə-, bāt \

reprobated; reprobating

Definition of reprobate (Entry 3 of 3)

transitive verb

1: to condemn strongly as unworthy, unacceptable, or evil reprobating the laxity of the age

2: to refuse to accept : REJECT

3: to foreordain to damnation

Many of our nation's issues also stem from the fact that we live with the false notion that we can compromise on the principles of God as though we have wiggle room. Have we not learned from the initial sin of yielding to outside sources for interpretation which cause judgement to fall on mankind? Especially when the instructions were clearly defined by the Creator himself. Who are we then to question Him? We are definitely not His equal. This is one of many reasons we are having issues to this day.

Obedience is better than sacrifice the Word of God instructs and when we align our societies up with even the Ten Commandments given to Moses, we can see the root of our issues come from being so far off our behavior stinks. It appears that for every Commandment mankind has a compromise and every time it's applied gets us into graver situations. The Word of God provides an exodus a way of escape to turn our situations around.

The challenge for most is there is too many voices with so many opinions but none truly providing a firm solution most of the time without an alternative motive. That becomes a new enslavement of your mind and energy. The only truly effective solution is when someone shares with you an invitation with Jesus (Yeshua). The invitation if accepted will change your life completely. Because the better you know and understand.

The scriptures provide wisdom, guidance and antidotes to help us navigate through life. Proverbs is an excellent book in the fact that I see it as a mirror to reflect where we currently are and have been in some aspect of our life, as well as light to navigate the road ahead to gain access to the desired paths. Which God intended for us to fulfill his purpose.

Proverbs 29:15-18 KJV - King James Version

The rod and reproof give wisdom: But a child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame. When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increaseth: But the righteous shall see their fall. Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest; Yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul. Where there is no vision, the people perish: But he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

Proverbs (Mishlei) 29:15-18 CJB - Complete Jewish Bible

The rod and rebuke give wisdom, but a child left to himself brings shame on his mother. When the wicked flourish, wrongdoing flourishes; but the righteous will witness their downfall. Discipline your son, and he will give you rest; yes, he will be your delight. Without a prophetic vision, the people throw off all restraint; but he who keeps Torah is happy.

The Word of God provides guidance for every day living and a pathway closer to God. It is also there to help us draw out those things which were place in us to fulfill all of our purpose in Him. What delays things is our inability to remain focused and navigate by the distractions and turn aside from the obstacles along life's pathway

How do we do that, one may ask by fulfilling the instruction provided by the Word of God. We fail in putting time aside to do what the Word say's and that is to study. This way we overcome the stereotype in which we all seem to at one point or another participate or better yet discover. That quote is this "The best way to hide something from a person is to put it in a book." We can counter it through making a more definitive effort to be presence for the push to accomplish it.

We also must do what the instructs when it tells us to "Watch as well as pray." Sometimes I feel we miss this master key. It was written with in the Word of God for a reason, understanding that communication with the father is paramount to aligning us with His principles. Furthermore help us to ensure the fulfillment of our purpose.

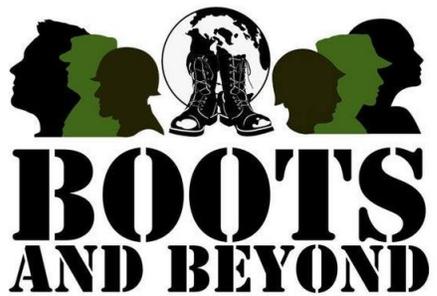

Have you ever taken the opportunity to sit back and reflect on the answer prayers and the places where God's favor had open doors of opportunity for you. Showing you that the gifts that were created with in you can illuminate to the point of drawing others into you. This I find as the amazing part of my relationship with God, because He can remove walls that I have constructed.

I also have learned that I'm not required to live out another person script or stereotype for my life. The adventures I have experienced with my relationship with God has lead me to ensure that I maintain the alignment because I see and trust the outcomes which has been fostered from the obedience. I still have areas of further growth and opportunities. Because I recognize that I have times of procrastination that lend to delayed intended blessings and this is during periods of over analyzing of the move of God. I have become better at it because in my prayers I now inquire what the lesson is for the day or what is my assignment. This way I understand the purpose of the day. At the end of the day there is always something gained with a great sense of fulfillment. You can end the day knowing more about the dynamics of yourself.

Things To Consider When Asking Why?

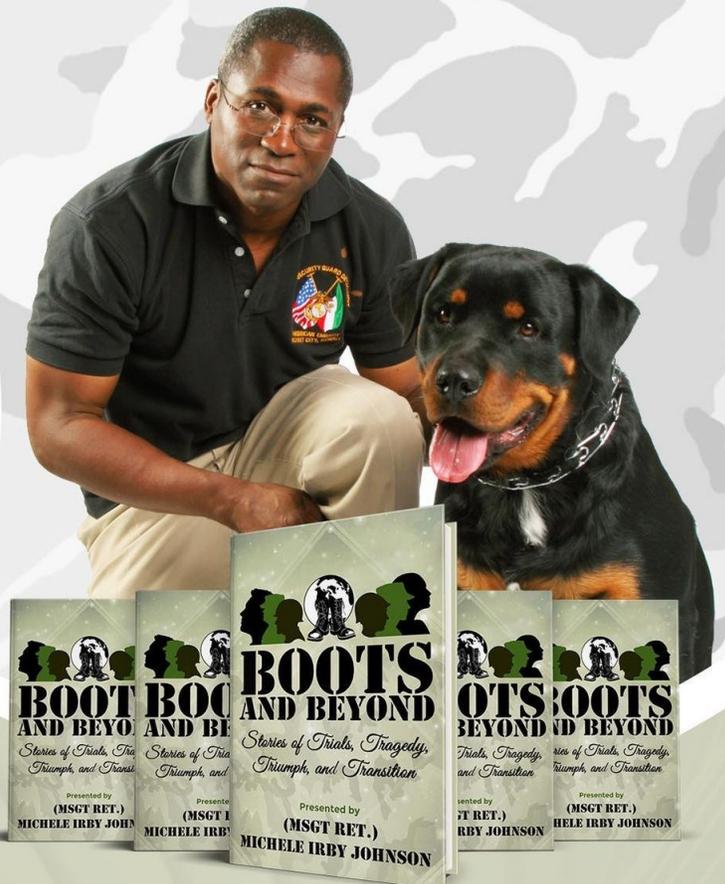

Dr. C.A. Dangerfield II

Why can't we see that most devastating pains that we face are truly simple fixes if we apply the principles of God but yet we can't seem to comprehend this understanding? Why do we value what we deem as rights more than we value an extraordinary and unique individual created by God? Why does our society promote forms of lifestyles that bring harm and not harmony? Why do circumstances have to create hardship and discomfort or loss of life before there is a call to action? Why are we so first fast to react negatively to fears and deceptions presented by others to promote fear? Rather than simply seek out truth which is also accessible. Why is it so hard to recognize a blessing and embrace it for what it has been created to be? These are all very relevant questions that if answered and the appropriate changes were to take place outcomes would be tremendously different. The first step to any cure is setting aside pride and acknowledge the truth about the issues that are creating negative outcomes. Secondly to quickly make amends which involves repentance and loads of apologies. Thirdly taking a posture of humility which allows others to take your attempts sincerely rather than with reservation when it comes to reconciling.

Why, Why, Why?

Dr. C. A. Dangerfield II

We continue to ask the questions of why things are happening when clearly, we are denying the obvious that we know is true. As if magically another outcome will somehow manifest itself, newsflash it will not. We are not in a compromising situation which presents some sort of leverage which will change the trajectory of our current circumstances.

Society has outsmarted even itself due to greed, deceptions and fear. You may as well not ask about any options. Because the choices chosen up to this point has only demonstrated our societies inability to follow even two of the simplest rules. For those who may be unaware to what they are this is for you. 1. Love the Lord thy God with all of your heart. 2. Love your neighbor as thyself. Think out if you really won't want to do harm to yourself. But we do tend to ignore this for the sake of selfishness. Then the rule because reactive rather responsive so it really sidesteps it's true intent. You have to really meditate and pray for a clear understanding.

Consider this also we hear this on a daily bases, "We have to get back to normal". Then you have to stop and consider what are you truly missing when we have been forced to stop and proactively pulse completely to create some form of awareness so that we can illuminate the improper behaviors demonstrated. So, then we see and acknowledge some of the issue. But in our impatience, it is our desire to return back to a place of familiarity without correcting issues that are present. So, we allow the smoldering fire to exist until conditions allow it to reignite and present new found grief. This statement is true if you continue to review the news reviews. One consistency in all cases is how we shift blame to defer from the initial root cause.

So, we cannot afford to return to back to normal because it will not provide the needed change. But usher back the oppression, envy, bias and unnecessary strife. Let create solutions that will line up with of God which is the intended outcome. Let's not go back to anything but go forward to the promises of God based on our obedience to His Word. We don't need to rely on others until we can first rely on ourselves to demonstrate obedience to the Will of God. We must be partakers first. "Do it God's Way for its the best way!
