COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Cosplay Classes: Tandy Leather

In my city, Calgary Alberta, I teach a cosplay leather working class for beginner leatherworkers and cosplayers. To the right is one of my students and their first leather working build! I teach skills from picking leather, tooling, dying and painting, stitching and wet forming. My students work through a project based curriculum that gets them a finished product that they will wear and love!

Fundraisers and Events

We have local fundraisers and events that I help organize and appear at. My last event was a colour run to raise money for community support and I was responsible for gathering local cosplayers to appear at the event for families and attendees to take pictures with and have fun!

Cosplay How It's Made

Cosplay How It's Made is an event I run at Otafest every year. This event is similar to a science fair for cosplayers, where experts set up a table and answer questions people may have about the specific techniques they present. The community response has been overwhelmingly positive, with new educators applying every year.
