H. Mark Bobotek

Mark Bobotek has helped hundreds of families in Maryland and Virginia with wills, trusts and other estate planning and elder law matters over the past 30 years. Dubbed “the planning man” by the Baltimore Sun, he limits his practice to estate planning and elder law: wills, trusts, estates, powers of attorney and health care documents, charitable giving, and related areas.

Mark attended Amherst College and George Mason University and the George Mason University School of Law in Arlington, Virginia. He also has advanced training in Tax Law from the University of Baltimore.

Mark recently volunteered as a Board Member for the Residences at Vantage Point retirement community and as President of its fundraising foundation. He is past President of the Coalition on Geriatric Services (COGS), an organization of 135 local senior service businesses. He is a former member of the Board of Managers for the Howard County YMCA and the Deerfield Senior Services. Mark has served on the board of the National Network of Estate Planning Attorneys. He is a current or former member of WealthCounsel, ElderCounsel, the Md. State Bar Association (Sections on Taxation, Elder Law and Estates & Trusts), the Virginia State Bar (Estates & Trusts Section), the D.C. Bar, the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys, and the Howard County Bar Association.

Mark’s many articles, publications, and speeches include contributions to the “Daily Plan-It”, a financial advisor newsletter distributed nationwide.

Between college and law school, Mark served aboard ship as U.S. Coast Guard officer. He lives in Ellicott

City
and
enjoys
time
with
his 3
adult

children and 5
grandchildren.
