

NÜVO YOU WEIGHT LOSS PROGRAM

Nüvo You is proud to announce our new Medical Weight Loss program, using small, weekly injections to help suppress appetite. The program features compounded versions of Semaglutide (Wegovy/Ozempic) or Tirzepatide (Mounjaro), FDA-Approved medications for weight loss. Published studies support both the weight loss and safety of these medications, which are classified as GLP-1 medications.

Small injections are done weekly into your stomach, with insulin-size needles and syringes. We provide the vial to you as well as the supplies (syringes, needles, alcohol wipes). The program includes initial consultation with continuing support, and can be done in-person or virtually!

In order to safely use the medication, BMI must be over 27; not suitable for those who are pregnant/possibly pregnant. Most common side effects are mild and include GI (cramps, nausea, diarrhea) and fatigue. Make sure to tell your provider about any other medications you take. Our typical goal for a patient would be 10-15% decrease in weight (e.g., 30lbs for a 200lb person).

For Semaglutide, the initial program fee is $469 and includes one 5mg vial of medication (8-week supply), consultation, and injection supplies. Tirzepatide pricing is $699 for consult plus two 20mg vials (appx. 8 week supply). Studies show an increased rate of weight loss as compared to Semaglutide, and many people experience fewer side effects. Financing is available through our partner company, Cherry. Reach out to us to schedule your consultation or with any questions you may have!