Dear Faithful Patriots,

I am a little more hopeful this week. Some good notes this week. The governor of New Mexico lost the gun grab attempt. The New York Times surprisingly reported about the Hunter and Joe Biden raking in millions from foreign powers.

I only included two articles this week because they are EARTH SHAKING. The plans for taking over food production that starves millions is actually being planned. See Market to Market. Phoenix is one of the cities in the US that has bought into the C49 plan that will ban beef, dairy and limit air travel to one flight every 3 years. Are you on board??

And my right click copy and paste mechanism is still not working, so MUST google the titles and read the rest of the story on your own. You MUST.

Colorado River Tea Party Minutes September 7, 2023

Our Secretary was unable to attend the meeting, so there were no minutes taken.

Corry for your loss.
You shoud have been there.

To Market, to Market By Clarice Feldman

The Soviets successfully pulled off a number of dirty tricks which increased their power but impoverished their citizens. Among them was to stir up class warfare by politicizing envy. Thus, unsuccessful farmers were urged to demonize and even kill “kulaks” -- that is, any productive farmer in the area. Another trick was to fail to provide factories with sufficient raw materials to fulfill the overly optimistic state-set production quotas and then criminally prosecute factory managers who couldn't meet these targets as "saboteurs." It deflected from their own failures but unsurprisingly resulted in a shortage of qualified managers and engineers.

It's disheartening to see the same tactics being used by unsuccessful politicians in North America, though you can easily see why they are desperate enough to try it.

The mayor of Chicago has offered up an idea even dumber than Defund the Police. Mayor Brandon Johnson wants to create city-owned grocery stores. The notion of one of the most corrupt, incompetent governments in the West running retail establishments, which even when well-run eke out slim profits of an estimated 1-3% of sales, is hilarious. Do it, mayor. Let us know how you handle shoplifters in them and what city management will cost those overburdened taxpayers unable to flee the city.

Justin Trudeau, on the other hand, has threatened a Soviet-style kulaks-and-saboteurs-type response. It's the greedy, mismanaged stores' fault that grocery prices are rising. He says that if the grocery stores don't stabilize prices he will take further measures, including taxes. Blaming the productive people and operations for failures occasioned by government mismanagement worked so well for the now defunct USSR, Trudeau's going to give it a try.

14 U.S Cities Planning to Ban Meat, Dairy, Private Cars by 2030

Frank Bergman

14 American cities have set a “target” to comply with the World Economic Forum’s (WEF) green agenda goals by banning meat, dairy, and private car ownership by 2030.

The U.S. cities have formed a coalition called the “C40 Cities Climate Leadership Group” (C40).

The C40 has established an “ambitious target” to meet the WEF’s goals by the year 2030.

To fulfill the “target,” the C40 Cities have pledged that their residents will comply with the following list of mandatory rules:

- “0 kg [of] meat consumption”
- “0 kg [of] dairy consumption”
- “3 new clothing items per person per year”
- “0 private vehicles” owned
- “1 short-haul return flight (less than 1500 km) every 3 years per person”

The C40 Cities’ dystopian goals can be found in its “The Future of Urban Consumption in a 1.5°C World” report.

The report was published in 2019 and reemphasized in 2023.

The organization is headed and largely funded by Democrat billionaire Michael Bloomberg.

Nearly 100 cities across the world make up the organization.

The American city members of C40 include:

- Austin
- Boston
- Chicago
- Houston
- Los Angeles
- Miami
- New Orleans
- New York City
- Philadelphia

- Phoenix
- Portland
- San Francisco
- Washington, D.C.
- Seattle

Media coverage of C40 Cities' goals has been relatively sparse. However, the few media personalities and news outlets who have discussed it have reportedly been heavily attacked by the corporate "fact-checkers."

If globalist leaders truly cared about the environment, they wouldn't be chartering private jets or owning massive, energy-consuming mansions on the coast in California, which, by climate fanatics' own calculation, will soon be underwater. As the WEF plainly stated in a 2016 promotional video, by 2030 "You'll own nothing, and you'll be happy."

Right now, hedge funds and private billionaires are buying up residential homes and farmland all over the world.

At the same time, unrealistic zero-emissions policies are impoverishing Westerners and annihilating the middle class, which is fueling reliance on centralized government.

Such intentional steps backward also, ironically, harm the earth because wealthier nations are proven to have cleaner environments and put less strain on natural resources.

Climate activists are also advocating for "climate lockdowns," in the same way there were Covid lockdowns.

Ultimately, the climate coalition's goals are inherently anti-human. People generally need meat and the protein it provides to flourish.

Banning meat and dairy, restricting calories, genetically altering the human body, and impoverishing the masses will hurt the planet and people.
