Marie Roeder - This is Marie's 5th show on Sioux City Community Theater's stage. Her most recent production at the SCCT was the season opener "Never Too Late". Marie is excited to bring you this heartfelt show and to share this story. Both Marie's parents have had heart surgery so this story is very close to her own heart. Marie's day job is as a therapist and you will find her cuddling her cat and spending time with her husband off the stage. She wants to thank her husband for all the help he has provided in running lines and being patient with rehearsals. She hopes you enjoy the show!

Andrew Gerodias - Andrew is happy to be back on the community theater stage after his debut here last summer in "Oliver!", and he also performed in "The Mouse Trap" at Lamb this year, as well as many shows while in high school and college. He works as a mental health and addiction counselor and supervisor at Rosecrance, and he teaches a couple psychology classes at Morningside University. He spends his time outside of work as a member of the Masons and Shriners, playing video games, and goofing around with his four girls. He's psyched to be on stage with his wife, Amanda, for the first time.

Eric Sorensen - Eric is excited to return to the SCCT stage, he was last seen in "Never Too Late". He is usually busy with 2 kids that are under the age of two. Thank you to his wife and daughters for the time to come be part of this amazing show!

Erin Carpenter - Erin is excited to be in her 5th show on the SCCT stage. Her most recent role was Trevor in "The Play That Goes Wrong." When Erin isn't on stage you can find her working at her family's business, hiking/camping/climbing with her daughter and brother, having game nights with friends, and doing karaoke at Kings & Queens. She would like to say a big thank you to her family and friends who continue to support her and her love of theater. She hopes you enjoy this wonderful story she and the rest of the cast are about to share with you!

Cast Bios

Payton French - Payton is returning with her 3rd role this season on SCCT stage. You would have also seen her in “Never too Late” and “Every Christmas Story Ever Told”. Payton has been extremely involved with theatre this year being a board member at SCCT, a substitute instructor at SCCT’s Youth program, and directing at West High School. When she is (very rarely) outside her theater endeavors, you can find her spending her down time with her friends or binge watching her latest show obsession. She hopes you will enjoy the show and be able to have a few laughs throughout this “heartwarming” experience. Thank you for supporting the arts!

Amanda Gerodias - Amanda wears many hats: she homeschools her four kids, manages the event registrations at the Siouxland Masonic building, and partners with a fair trade business out of Togo, West Africa. When she's not working she likes sitting on the porch reading a book, practicing embroidery, or learning ASL. She's very excited to add community theater actress to her list of endeavors as this is her first time on this stage. The experience has been made extra special because she's doing it with her husband, Andrew, who is playing the roll of Hank. Amanda wants to thank her husband for encouraging her to be on stage, and her kids for helping her run lines and being great cheerleaders. She hopes you enjoy this touching story.

Kellyn Howell - Kellyn is back on the SCCT stage! After having her debut performance as Chiffon in Little Shop of Horrors, Kellyn was eager to get back on the stage in a more serious performance. She hopes you will remember this show for years to come.
