What are clients are saying

The best friend I didn't know I needed

When I first started wedding planning I thought for sure I'd be fine without a wedding planner, and then I realized quickly that was not the case. All the details, planning, money, phone calls, paperwork, etc. It's overwhelming. Thankfully our venue recommended Lisa from A Pinto Affair to us! She's the best friend I didn't know I needed for our wedding. This woman works hard to make sure your dream and visions come to life! She thinks of all the details you had no idea to ask or plan for. She's more than organized; she makes sure everyone else involved with our wedding is up to date. She has easy to use software that helps keep us in line with all the timelines and planning. She's also quick to reply, easy to work with, friendly and attentive to your wants/needs. Lisa was able to handle anything that didn't go the way we planned and had it taken care of immediately. At our rehearsal she kept everyone's attention and made sure we were all comfortable with our roles. She's amazing! I would 100% recommend her to any bride for their wedding day!

We absolutely loved having Lisa as our coordinator! She is perfection from preparations to the big day. On our wedding day, she went above and beyond to make sure everything went smoothly and everyone was well informed of our timeline and any special touches that we wanted to include in our ceremony and reception. Her thoughtfulness and attention was exceptional as she collaborated with us to make our day a reflection of our wishes and vision. Our day was so memorable for us and Lisa was a big part of that. Where would we be without A Pinto Affair

What can we say? Lisa and A Pinto Affair took care of every single detail for our special wedding day. And I mean everything. A wedding has so many moving parts and Lisa was there with us every single step of the way - to include stressful last-minute changes! A Pinto Affair is one of the best decisions we made and would recommend Lisa 100 out of 100 times. Thank you A Pinto Affair for making our day into a lifetime of lasting memories!

Answered Prayers

Words cannot explain how grateful we are for Lisa. She was so kind, responsive, and attentive! Her work is beautiful and her overall work ethic is unmatched. When planning a wedding it is so stressful especially when you're dealing with so many different vendors. Lisa ALWAYS responded to me in a timely manner. I would recommend her time and time again to whoever is looking for a coordinator for any event.

Frequently Asked Questions

DO WE REALLY NEED TO HIRE A PLANNER

Yes, hiring a wedding planner or a day-of management coordinator can significantly reduce the stress associated with your planning process. They offer valuable tips, tricks, and insights into the wedding industry that will provide you with peace of mind and simplify your planning efforts.

A planner can help you stay organized, manage your budget effectively, and ensure that your vision comes to life on the big day. They coordinate with vendors, maintain timelines, and handle any unexpected issues, allowing you to fully enjoy your celebration without worry. Ultimately, having a professional by your side can make all the difference in creating a seamless and memorable event.

MY VENUE HAS INCLUDED A COORDINATOR, ARE YOU NECESSARY

Yes, there is a distinction between a venue coordinator and a day-of planner.

Venue Coordinator: Their primary role is to ensure that all responsibilities related to the venue are fulfilled. They make sure the room is properly set up and that any included items from the venue are prepared.

Day-of Planner/Manager: This person handles everything on the event day! They oversee the arrival and setup of all vendors, arrange personal items, manage the timeline, and orchestrate the ceremony, cocktail hour, and reception schedule. The day-of planner acts as your personal advocate, focusing on the finer details that make your event unique and ensuring that everything aligns with your vision. While the venue coordinator concentrates on the logistics of the location itself, the day-of planner takes a holistic approach, considering every aspect of the event from start to finish.

Ultimately, having both professionals can be advantageous. The venue coordinator can handle in-house specifics, while the day-of planner ensures that all external elements come together seamlessly, providing you with a stress-free experience and allowing you to fully enjoy your special day.

Frequently Asked Questions

WHERE DO I START

Once you are engaged, the first priority is to establish a budget. Consider who will contribute to this budget and determine the expected guest count. Next, create a vision for your big day. Think about the style, theme, and atmosphere you want to create. Do you imagine a rustic outdoor setting or a glamorous ballroom affair? Once you have a clear picture, research potential venues that match your vision and fit your budget.

After securing a venue, it's time to start building your team of vendors. Begin with the most essential: a photographer to capture your memories, a caterer to delight your guests' taste buds, and a florist to enhance the beauty of your setting. Remember, each decision brings you one step closer to bringing your dream wedding to life.

Don't forget to hire a wedding planner, that is truly your first step in ensuring that you have a smooth planning process.

SAVE THE DATES, WEDDING WEBSITES, ARE THEY ARE NECESSARY?

No, it's not mandatory to send save-the-dates or create a wedding website; however, in today's world, they have become almost essential for sharing information. For instance, your save-the-date card serves as your engagement announcement, notifying guests of the upcoming wedding and inviting them to "save the date."

Wedding websites are excellent for providing guest information, managing RSVPs, and sharing your bridal registry. Having everything in one place simplifies the process for guests, allowing them to find answers to their questions without the need for phone calls or texts.

Keep in mind that you'll need to update your website regularly. Set aside just 30 minutes each month on your calendar to ensure you don't forget.

DO WE HAVE TO INCLUDE ALL THE OLD TRADITIONS?

This is not a straightforward yes or no response. Each couple and wedding is unique, and your celebration should embody your love story rather than conforming to traditions simply because they were part of someone else's wedding.

Many couples today are forgoing certain time-honored customs, such as tossing the bouquet or giving speeches, in favor of more opportunities for socializing, dancing, and truly celebrating your union!

Ultimately, the decision is yours to make. Reflect on whether you'll regret your choice five years down the line, regardless of the path you choose.

Frequently Asked Questions

DO I HAVE TO DO A SEATING CHART

It's not mandatory, but having a seating chart is highly beneficial. Guests appreciate having clear direction, and by informing them of their assigned seats in advance, the event will proceed more smoothly.

A seating chart helps prevent confusion and ensures that everyone feels comfortable and included. It allows you to strategically place guests so they can engage in meaningful conversations, perhaps seating old friends together or introducing new acquaintances based on shared interests. Additionally, a seating chart can help accommodate any special needs, such as ensuring accessibility for guests with mobility challenges or creating a peaceful environment for those who might prefer a quieter table. Ultimately, it's about enhancing the guest experience and making your wedding day as enjoyable and stress-free as possible for everyone involved.

If you're looking to elevate the experience further, consider reserved seating. This involves having an actual seat or place setting designated for each guest at a specific table. Adding a small gift with their name can make it even more special.

WHEN SHOULD I START SHOPPING FOR A WEDDING DRESS

This is ultimately a personal decision, but a good rule of thumb is to start at least 9 to 12 months prior to the wedding. Many gowns can take several months to arrive, and you'll also need to factor in time for alterations.

Before you begin your shopping journey, it's wise to establish a budget or determine a price range before entering a bridal boutique. This will help you focus on options that are both beautiful and financially feasible. Consider what styles you're drawn to, and don't hesitate to try on a variety of silhouettes—even those you might not initially consider—since they may surprise you.

As you embark on this exciting adventure, remember to bring along trusted friends or family members whose opinions you value. Their support can be invaluable in helping you make the perfect choice. Keep an open mind and enjoy the process; finding your dream dress is meant to be a joyful and memorable experience.

Make sure to book appointments well in advance, especially during peak wedding seasons, to ensure you have ample time and attention from the boutique staff. Once you find "the one," celebrate the moment and cherish the journey towards your special day!
