The family will compete in five “Don’t” challenges worth escalating amounts of money.
Each challenge will be timed.
If they succeed, they get cash.
Each time they fail a challenge,
they won’t earn money for that challenge and one of them is out of the game.

But it's not the family's decision who gets benched when they fail a challenge.

It's up to the randomizer.

Each time they fail a stunt, the randomizer determines who will sit out.

Will their best player be knocked out?

The family members will be eliminated until one remains.

The last standing relative must complete the rest of the challenges on their own to win money for their family.

At the end of the final “Don’t” challenge, the money they have earned throughout the five games is theirs to keep.

THE CHALLENGES

There will be new and returning signature challenges each self-contained episode.

The challenges will all give a simple instruction, for example:
When the best of the best are trying everything they can to get you to crack, can you refrain from laughing before the clock runs out?

DON'T LAUGH

The list is long and nothing is off limits...
