A E A E A E A E A D A E
A E A A E
 The ink is black, the page is white,
 together we learn to read and write.
A E A E
 The child is black, the child is white,
A D E E7
 the whole world looks, upon the sight
A D A E
 a beautiful sight.
A
 And now a child, can understand,
E E7
 that this is the law, of all the land,
E E7
 all the land.
A E A E
 The world is black, the world is white
 it turns by day, and then by night.
A E A D A E
 to see the light.
A E E E7
 together they grow, to see the light,

And now a land, can plainly see.

Will have a chance of liberty, liberty.

The world is black, the world is white

it turns by day, and then by night.

the child is black, the child is white,

The whole world looks upon the sight

The beautiful sight

The world is black, the world is white

it turns by day, and then by night.

the child is black, the child is white,

together they grow, to see the light,

to see the light.

The world is black, the world is white

it turns by day, and then by night.

the child is black, the child is white,

The whole world looks upon the sight

The beautiful sight

The world is black, the world is white

it turns by day, and then by night.

the child is black, the child is white,

together they grow, to see the light,

to see the light. . . .
