Dawn Jackson

Live In Concert

October 22nd at 7 PM

Luther's Table— 419 2nd Ave S Renton WA 98057

Dawn Jackson grew up plucking strings on the guitars hanging on the walls of her grandfather's Sho-Bud Guitar Company in Nashville, Tennessee. A branch off the pedal steel pioneering Jackson family, which has produced some of the most artistic and emotive instruments in the world, she followed the string pulls of her music-woven DNA strands to continue the tradition of creating music that expresses both heartache and hope.

Her authentic storytelling style of songwriting paints lyrical images, braided with melodic and atypical chord progressions, all complemented by lush, full and moody vocals, topped with a hint of inescapable twang.

About Luther's Table

Raise a glass. Share a meal. Engage the arts. Change the world.

Their Purpose:

Luther's Table exists to change the world by loving all people, fostering authentic community, and breaking down barriers through food, drink, the arts, and a spirit of generosity.

We love being a place to host deep conversations - theological or philosophical, over a drink or a meal.

Their Space:

Our beautiful venue in downtown Renton features a stage, private room, and professional sound board. It's perfect place for live music, shows, lectures and events.

We proudly serve Dillano's Coffee Roasters, a full lunch & dinner menu, including sharables, draught beer, and wine.

Community:

As a non-tipping house, we give away 30% of the donations received through the cafe to other local non-profits, as well as providing a no-cost coffee and warm up program for those folks in need of a warm space. Our staff is composed entirely of volunteers who believe in our mission of service and building tolerance in the community.
