

Two-Sided Coin/Man

On One Side –

Your strides are long – so no one can catch you...

Your swagger unique – so no one can match you...

Your confidence illuminating – so no light shines brighter...

Your pride ever growing – so no one can reach you...

Your strength unwavering – so no one can beat you...

Your heart well-guarded – so not to be stolen...

On the Other Side –

Your touch is soft – it unmask your pain...

Your words have emotion – they share your true story...

Your eyes are kind – they introduce me to your soul...

Your smile is gentle – it shows your humanity...

Your heart is aching – it exposes your ability to feel...

My eyes watch yours as they search for what's true

My hand touches yours as it seeks shelter from the cold

Your heart beat is like a song as it searches for the perfect dancer

Your voice calls out to me looking for the answer to a question unanswered

The bear slumbers in silence, allowing the man to appear – unscaved.