TREATMENT FAQs

WHY DYSPORT AND NOT BOTOX?

- Dysport (abobotulinumtoxinA) and Botox (onabotulinumtoxinA) are two injectable derivations of botulinum toxin A (a neurotoxin producing temporary muscle paralysis) that are primarily used as cosmetic treatments for wrinkles, laugh lines, crow's feet, or other lines on the face.
- Botulinum toxin A is the core ingredient of Botox and Dysport. The small amounts of this substance in both forms inhibit the release of certain neurotransmitters (chemical messengers) associated with muscular contraction. As such, Dysport and Botox injections work to relax muscles, which confers their therapeutic and cosmetic effects.
- Botox and Dysport have different strengths depending on dilution. We dilute Dysport to the similar strength of cosmetic Botox.

Recently, the makers of Botox have been studying the possible correlation between ineffective Botox treatment and the COVID-19 vaccination series. Some clients have had a full treatment of Botox with minimal or no results.

While, theoretically, this issue could apply to Dysport, we have not experienced any concerns.
