DESIGN WALL DIGEST

Beauty Goes On and On

In a recent Facebook post about autumn, I read, “Mother Nature is about to show us all how beautiful letting go can be” and it stopped me in my tracks - because it’s perfectly true. The past 18 months does not have to shape us for the rest of our days. The past 18 months has helped us grow & hopefully reconnect with the most important people & experiences in life. I know many of us have suffered loss & sadness; as is life & yet in the past 18 months, we can likely find nuggets of gratefulness & growth.

This surely isn’t a lecture; this is a message of gratitude for everyone & everything I have in life, including each of you!

Things continue to look different & likely always will and so my wish is that I can continue to keep offering you beauty & the ability to stimulate your creative minds. I’m only an email, phone call, or pre-booked visit away!

Time Marches On

So much has happened at Design Wall throughout 2021 - from openings & closings, and regulation changes, to shop hops, both virtual & in-person, new stock arriving, Gammill machine installations, and plans for the future & new offerings. Time renews. Have a look at what’s new and what’s coming up!

Pumpkin Spiced
smelling fabric,
my life would be complete”

The Gammills Have Arrived!
