The SWIS Difference

At Summit West Independent School, students work collaboratively with their teacher to determine their own unique approach to learning. Students make choices on how they learn, create their own learning projects, and meet with peers and teachers to share their knowledge. Students become confident, advocate for themselves and lead the way to their own success.

Improving learning spaces for collaboration

Collaborative learning environments enable multi-aged students to learn and create together.

Build their confidence and let them learn their way

We help students understand how they learn best and provide them with choice and a voice in their educational journey.

Prepare for the Future Dual Credit Programs

Students can take college and university courses while in high school to assist with career and life goal setting.
