Pennsylvania Gambler Charged for Allegedly Leaving Baby in Car at Store

A Pennsylvania woman was arrested Friday after police investigated an earlier incident where she went into a convenience store to gamble. While playing skill machines for close to an hour, the suspect left a one-year-old in a parked car unattended, police said. Read

Alone in Hot Car

Also, in another incident, in July a court ordered that a Georgia woman must not have any contact with her three children. That's after they were found unattended in a car at Florida's Seminole Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Hollywood.

When Icese Laporsha Simmons, 33, of Albany, Ga., appeared in Florida's Broward County court, a judge ordered the children to be placed with the Florida Department of Children and Families.

Simmons allegedly left the children in the car for more than three hours. The children range in age from four to 12. Reports show the car was parked on the casino garage's third floor. The children were asleep in the car. Read
