

In a world of rivals and enemies, passion ignites amidst the seductive dangers of desire and lethal consequences...

Angelina is a college student who is thrust into the cutthroat world of business when her family's company is acquired by their rival, the Rossi family. As she begins working for her dark and dangerous boss, Julian, she finds herself drawn to him despite his father's reputation for being ruthless.

Julian's enemies are many, and their rivalry threatens to destroy everything they hold dear. Angelina must navigate the dangerous waters of Julian's world, while also keeping their relationship a secret from her family.

As they try to outwit Julian's adversaries and keep their relationship a secret, their love turns into a thrilling game of cat and mouse. But when their secret is revealed, Angelina and Julian must face the consequences of their actions and fight to protect their love against all odds.

Can their love withstand the pressures of Julian's dangerous world, or will they be forced to choose between their loyalty to their families or love for each other?

