Guess who was sitting behind me? Henry Fonda, the movie star. So you see, I was really flying in style. The plane was a constelation.

I had anything that I wanted to drink, and was even served a full meal. That sure was flying in style.

Arrived in Madrid Spain, + spent a night there. Left the next day for Tangera Africa.

Arrived in Tangera late Friday night, and had to spend a night there.

The next day I realized that I could buy perfume very cheap. So I bought perfume with almost my last penny. Chanel # 5 is 17/ what I bought. I bought only five bottles at about $3.50 each. And they were all ounce bottles. I wish I had more money to have bought more.

Anyway I sold them for $6.00 each. Don't worry honey, I only sold four. HA! HA!

By selling them like that it helped make back a little of the money that I still owe out.

I also bought you a couple more things there. I know you'll love them.

I caught a cab out of Tangier with about five other Moroccans.
I was a little worried all the way.
It took me five hours by cab. But it was a lot quicker than train or bus.

and didn't cost much more!
The cab brought me to a town about 70 miles from the base.
From there I took a bus. The bus dropped me off in ~~front~~ front of the gate. I got a ride from the gate right up to my hut.

It felt wonderful getting back to people that I could talk American to.

There is a lot in between the story that I've written. But I've got to leave a little to talk about.

Honey, I'm going to make a big promise to you. I'll never travel like that without you again!
Because, all I could think about was,
my sweet, wonderful wife.

¹⁶ He's got some thing for you + mike from Brazil which my cousins bought.

He's also got a few nice things from Rome for you.

I don't know about the clocks.
He's got to pay back $56. yet. And if I have any left, I'll get the clocks, ok?

Honey, I wanted to buy something big for you, but my money has run out. But what I have, I know you'll love.

He's got to end Baby! I promise to write a sweet letter tomorrow. Kiss my big hussy for me. Here is a big kiss for you honey. I love you sweet.
And don't you dare worry anymore!! I'll answer your letters later. Love you my sweet. Pete
