

Jack

Support Worker

I am a country boy at heart who recently relocated from the Central West of New South Wales to Adelaide to pursue new and exciting career opportunities. Having spent much of my working life on cane farms and in hospitality, I have developed a strong work ethic, a genuine sense of responsibility, and pride in everything I do.

These experiences have shaped my passion for meaningful work that supports and empowers others. I consider it a privilege to work in such a beautiful and vibrant city as Adelaide and I approach my role with gratitude, commitment, and professionalism.

Outside of work, I enjoy hiking, fishing, and camping, and I value the sense of calm and connection that nature provides. When time allows for a quieter pace, I also enjoy relaxing at home with card games or spending time on my PlayStation. I am currently undertaking my Certificate III in Individual Support (Disability) to further develop my skills and provide the highest standard of care to the people I support.
