About Me

Hi, I'm Darshan! I have over 5 years of experience as a Disability Support Worker and hold a Certificate III in Individual Support. I genuinely enjoy helping people live as independently as possible while supporting them to achieve their goals and enjoy the activities that matter most to them.

I believe that every person is unique, so I take the time to get to know each participant and provide support that reflects their individual needs, preferences, and aspirations. Whether it's assisting with daily living, getting out into the community, or simply being there to offer encouragement, I aim to create a safe, positive, and respectful environment where people feel comfortable and valued.

Outside of work, I love spending quality time with my family, exploring new places, and keeping up with the latest technology. I'm particularly interested in smart home technology and gadgets, and I enjoy learning about new innovations.

A little fun fact about me: I'm naturally curious and love researching new ideas and finding practical solutions. If there's a new gadget or piece of technology to explore, I'm usually the first to give it a try!
