

*"And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes;
and there will be no more death, neither sorrow,
nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things are passed away."*

— Revelation 21:4

Don't Cry for Me

Don't cry for me. I will be okay.
Heaven is my home now,
and this is where I'll stay.
Don't cry for me. I'm where I belong.
I want you to be happy
and try to stay strong.

Don't cry for me. It was just my time,
But I will see you someday
on the other side.
Don't cry for me. I am not alone.
The angels are with me
to welcome me home.

Don't cry for me, for I have NO fear.
All my pain is GONE,
and Jesus took my tears.
Don't cry for me. This is not the end.
I'll be waiting here for you
when we meet again.

Words of Appreciation

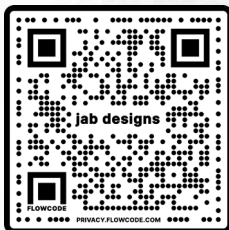

The Family of Lisa Diane Hutto wishes to express their deepest appreciation and sincere gratitude to those who have offered texts, e-mails, calls, prayers, support, and well-wishes during their time of bereavement. Thank you for your love and strength which, along with the strength of God, has helped to sustain us through our sorrow. May God continue to bless you!

We take comfort in 1 Corinthians 2:9...

"Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, nor have entered into the heart of man, the things which God has prepared for those who love Him."

A Legacy™

A Heritage: Character Qualities, Memoirs...

Yet we have this assurance: Those who belong to God will live; their bodies will rise again! Those who sleep in the earth will rise up and sing for joy!

Lisa Diane Hutto

On June 30, 1964, in the city of Orlando, Florida, a beautiful baby girl was born to Juanelle Hutto-Jones and Norman Lewis Hutto. They named her Lisa Diane, and from the very beginning she carried with her a quiet strength and a vibrant spirit.

Lisa grew up right here in Orange County, attending the public schools before proudly graduating with the Jones High School Class of 1982. At Jones, she wasn't just a student—she was an athlete through and through. Whether it was basketball or tennis, Lisa loved the competition and gave her all.

After high school, she set her sights on something bigger. She became a proud Gator, heading off to the University of Florida in Gainesville. Later, she earned a Bachelor's degree in Engineering at Wayne State University (while residing in Detroit), and a Master's Degree in Engineering from Jacksonville State University (while residing in Alabama). Education wasn't just a stepping stone for Lisa—it was a launching pad.

Her career took her north to Detroit, where she worked as an engineer for Chrysler. It was there, during those years in Detroit, that she was blessed with her greatest joy—her son, Lamont. Lisa poured her love and energy into both her career and her role as a mother, and in time she and Lamont relocated to Anniston, Alabama.

In Anniston, Lisa continued her engineering career, first with Honda and later with New Flyer in Calhoun County—a company that manufactures transit buses. She worked diligently there until her retirement. But more than the work she did, it was the life she built in Alabama that mattered most.

She and Lamont made Anniston their home, and Lisa soon became a part of the family at 17th Street Missionary Baptist Church. She joined in February 2017 under the leadership of Reverend Dr. Jeffrey Mills and faithfully served as an usher. Her warm smile and kind spirit greeted everyone who walked through those church doors.

If you knew Lisa, you knew about the bond she had with her son. Lisa and Lamont were inseparable—mother and son, best friends, cheerleaders for one another. She was so proud of him, and today he continues to make her proud as a Marine serving in Parris Island, South Carolina.

When her health began to decline, Lisa eventually made her way back home to Orlando. There, her sisters cared for her with love and devotion until the Lord called her home on August 21, 2025.

Lisa was preceded in death by her parents, Juanelle Hutto-Jones and Norman Lewis Hutto, and her brother, Michael Ray Hutto. She leaves behind to cherish her memory her beloved son, Lamont Devonte Hutto; her sisters, Michelle Hutto-Sipp and Marjorie A. Hutto; her stepfather, Nathaniel Leon Jones; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and dear friends.

Her journey was one of faith, family, and perseverance. And though she will be deeply missed, the love she shared and the life she lived will continue to inspire all who knew her.
