A Legacy™

a heritage: character qualities, memoirs . . .

“To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: a time to be born, and a time to die, a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted....a time to weep, and a time to laugh: a time to mourn, and a time to dance...”

– Ecclesiastes 3:1, 2, 4

MR. GEORGE BROWN, II

George Walter Brown, II, was born February 1, 1972, in Boston, Massachusetts, to George J. and Rita L. Brown.

He attended Asheville City Schools and graduated from Asheville High School in 1990, where he was an honor student, played basketball, and ran cross country track. Fluent in French, George was often chosen to interpret for French-speaking students who spoke no English.

George received his B.S. degree in mathematics from Hampton University. He needed one elective to complete his graduation requirements, and on a whim, chose a Special Education class. Upon completing his class and obtaining his degree, he told his mother, a former math teacher, “I have no background in education, but I now understand why you love what you do. I don’t know how I’m going to do it, but I want to be a math teacher.”

He began his 28-year teaching career as a math teacher at Dudley High School, Greensboro, North Carolina, and continued at Huntington Middle School, Hampton, Virginia, Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, Georgia, Freedom Middle School, Orlando, Florida, and ultimately his career concluded at Jones High School, Orlando, Florida.

George developed his love of shooting pool at the age of 5 under the tutelage of his paternal grandfather and namesake, Mr. George Walter Brown, in Roosevelt, New York. He played pool with the Atlanta Pool Association, and the Orlando Sharks, where he advanced to the National competition in Las Vegas 3x.

In addition to his love of pool, George was a sports fanatic, specifically the NBA and NFL.

As a child he attended basketball camp at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where students James Worthy, Michael Jordan, and Sam Perkins ran the camp under the direction of Dean Smith. George developed a lifelong love of UNC, received a scholarship to attend UNC upon graduation from Asheville High School, and only after the urging/nagging of his mother, did he agree to attend Hampton University. He developed a love for Hampton and became a member of the Marching Pirates. Although he was an active and serious Hampton Pirate, he remained a devoted Tar Heel lover throughout his life.

George was a serious, die-hard Dallas Cowboy fan. He formed deep connections with his St. Louis family members through their mutual passion for the team. No matter what their record was, George was a Dallas Cowboy fan. He could analyze any team, player, coach or game, NBA or NFL, and could easily have worked successfully as a professional analyst.

On the last day of his life, May 8, 2024, George was on his way to his beloved Jones High School, to do what he loved, to serve the students that he loved, and to teach math. George was loved by many, and will be sorrowfully missed by all he knew and loved.

George is survived by his loving wife – Yvienne St. Louis Brown; 2 sons – Brandon X. Brown of Atlanta, GA, and Xander S. Brown, Clermont, FL; 3 daughters – Nia S. Brown, Atlanta, GA, Zoe E. Brown, Atlanta, GA, and Zola S. Brown, Clermont, FL; step daughter – Zakeya S. (Lowell) Brown, Panama City, FL; his parents – Brigadier General Retired George J. (Barbara) Brown, Tacoma, Washington and Rita (Ira) Waters, Asheville, NC; 1 brother – Joseph R. (Yoshie) Brown, Tokyo, Japan; 1 sister – Lisa C. Rhodes, Atlanta, GA; and a host of loving aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and many friends.

For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor ANY other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

– Romans 8:38-39
