Hello! I am Shyam Karri, a watercolor enthusiast, exploring deeper dimensions of life and expressing the harmony that I seek through watercolors.

The process is exhilarating and puts one on toes and compels one to remain attentive at any given moment and lets one dabble between control and 'no control', Mind and heart, Rationality and intuition.

“Effort is the mind’s way and effortlessness is of the heart”

I enjoy watching! Watching ordinary life on the streets. I realize that all that visual information tickles my subconscious mind, which indeed urges me to laugh it out through strokes. Through the practice, I am learning to let water do the job, allow things to unfold on their own and become a mere spectator of the dynamic surprises that watercolor brings out.

The concept of blurring the latter and highlighting ~~the~~ some parts is awesome.
It's like camera lens blur in paintings! 😊

I would love to let the viewer Relax over the emptiness in the canvas, contrasting the buzz of information all around, the space allows one to connect to the subject instantly and urges one to complete the story on their own and attach with the work in their own way.

I always feel my works are half done and waiting to be complete in your imagination.

ART PRINTS

For years! I was on a mission to make my art available at affordable prices, Between, selling an art work for millions to one person to reaching out to millions of people who connect with my work, I always choose the later, I wanted my works to reach the Homes that resonate and cherish.

Working with various print surfaces, Printers and framing teams, quite delighted to make my works available at affordable prices.

Print surface : Archival Canvas
Frame : wooden finish synthetic Frame $\frac{3}{4}$ inch

In a world of wonder and surprise,
an unlikely friendship did arise.
A butterfly delicate and light,
a dog, loyal and strong in his might.
Through fields of flowers, they danced
and played,
their bond strong, never to fade.
Different in shape, size, and wing,
their love a beautiful thing.

31

COMMUNION

*A gentle touch upon my head,
From a kind soul who stops to tread.
A moment of warmth, a simple act,
And I feel gratitude in fact.
For I am but a street dog here,
No one to love, no one to cheer.
But in this moment, I feel seen,
And a grateful heart, I glean.*

OVER THE NOISES

Two dogs lay fast asleep
Side by side, in slumber deep
As they dream, their minds entwine
Their hearts beat as one, in perfect rhyme
They run through fields of green and gold
With wagging tails and spirits bold
Their paws dance on soft, cool grass
As they chase the butterflies that pass
They feel each other's breath and warmth
Their bond unbreakable, no room for remorse
Together they play and frolic free
Their souls entwined, for all to see
A love so pure, a friendship strong
Together they sleep, where they belong.

We were looking for few paintings of nature to fit in the design context of our project and found @shyamkarri.in. After being intrigued by seeing his details, we made sure all the spaces in the project celebrate few of his works. His works capture expressions of life in watercolor beyond amusement!!

It's a great joy to watch art reaching hands that cherish forever.

Shyam, your work is just spectacular to put it simply. I have seen a lot of art by a lot of artists in many places and galleries including Jehangir, Chitrakala Parishad, State gallery of art and lots of art galleries in US and Europe. I would say that your work is easily among the best that I've seen. Normally when one sees art by a single artist, one can pick favourites (unless they're so close and similar). But with your repertoire it would be impossible to select a favourite. A blind pick would still be amazing! Your wide variety of themes span across animals, humans, landscapes and so on. So you've covered everything there! In terms of depth, each of your creation has a story! You've not just captured people or animals or scenes. You've captured moments, emotions, slices of life and reflections! In terms of your style, your approach of less speaking so much more is amazing! You've used blank spaces so effectively that whatever you've painted stands out speaking volumes! You've said you've let the water do the job, which shows your modesty! You have chosen to lead the water to do a fantastic job! Love the choice of your colours- they're so realistic, life-like and again relying on the strokes to talk rather than the colours dominate. I can go on about each one of your creations, if I had the time. God bless you with lots of inspiration, good luck and success! - Mrs. Geetha Pisupati
