

COMMUNITY AWARD RECIPIENT

HELEN SCHERRER - DIAMOND

HEALTH & WELLNESS AWARD

Helen Scherrer-Diamond, recipient of the Health and Wellness Award, is a stalwart advocate for community care, particularly for individuals with disabilities, veterans, and those living with MS. Known affectionately as the "Networking Ninja," Helen's ability to forge connections and support networks is unparalleled.

At the Atlanta Neuroscience Institute (ANI), Helen's impact is profound. She led the development of a comprehensive workbook for the MS Support Group, fostering connectivity and empowerment among its members. Through her initiatives, ANI has collaborated effectively with senior communities like CORSO Senior Living in Atlanta, GA, amplifying support systems for those in need.

In her work with Veterans organizations, including the Jewish War Veterans and Georgia Hospice and Palliative Care Organization, Helen's contributions are transformative. From championing deserving veterans for accolades to facilitating crucial connections between hospices and veteran groups, her efforts have left an indelible mark on countless lives.

Moreover, Helen's expertise in insurance matters has been instrumental in guiding both businesses and individuals towards prudent planning for the future.

While her professional achievements are commendable, Helen's personal accomplishments are equally inspiring. As a published author and esteemed member of various community groups, including NAIPC-National Aging in Place Council and JWV-Jewish War Veterans Post 112, she continues to lead by example in advocating for meaningful change.

As a caregiver to her husband David, who battles Multiple Sclerosis, Helen's compassion and dedication shine brightly. Her unwavering commitment to improving the lives of others is a testament to her character and serves as a beacon of hope and inspiration for all.

In honoring Helen Scherrer-Diamond with the Health and Wellness Award, we celebrate not only her achievements but also her enduring legacy of compassion, empowerment, and service to the community.