ACHIEVING EXCELLENCE

Empowering people in the achievement of excellence.

CLASS zero3 LLC was founded out of a shared passion for national security, homeland security, emergency management, cyber security, government relations, and crisis resiliency. Our three founders, all retired military officers, bring together more than 75 years of combined experience in these fields, backed by deep expertise in leading organizational transformation and strategic policy development.

Our team has undergone comprehensive training across numerous esteemed organizations such as DHS, DOD, FEMA, the Harvard Kennedy School, and the University of Pennsylvania. Our credentials are extensive and internationally recognized, including CISSP (Certified Information Systems Security Professional), CEH (Certified Ethical Hacker), and ITIL v3 Expert certifications. We also hold a series of FEMA ICS certifications (100, 200, 300, 330, 400, 700, 800), as well as FEMA Incident Commander, Operations Section Chief, On-Scene Commander, Logistics Section Chief, and Finance Section Chief qualifications.

Our founders have served in sensitive roles in national security including positions within the National Security Council, as Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Department of Energy, in the U.S. Senate, and as Senior Advisors to Foreign Governments at the Department and Cabinet level. They carry Top Secret w/SCI Clearances, emphasizing their commitment to the highest standards of integrity and trust.

A key strength of CLASS zero3 LLC is our significant network of highly experienced professionals across a multitude of industries. This vast network empowers us to stay abreast of the latest developments, embrace diverse perspectives, and assemble robust multidisciplinary teams to tackle complex challenges in national security, homeland security, cyber security, and emergency management.

At CLASS zero3 LLC, our commitment is to leverage our combined expertise, unique experiences, and deep understanding of the global threat landscape to provide unparalleled services for maintaining national security and resilience. We approach every task with an unwavering dedication to security, constantly innovating to deliver effective, comprehensive, and forward-thinking solutions to our clients.
